

Big Tax Cuts Ruled Out by Senate Leaders

New Bill Passed by House Would Increase Income Levies 12½ Per Cent; Excises Also Up

Washington, June 23 (AP)—Senate leaders said today they hope to soften the impact of a whopping $7,200,000,000 tax boost approved yesterday by the House. But they were cautious about predicting any sizeable cuts.

The tax bill, largest single revenue ever laid before Congress, would:

1. Add 12½ per cent to the income taxes of individuals, to raise an additional $2,847,000,000 a year.
2. Place an additional $1,252,000,000 in excise taxes on gasoline, automobiles, cigarettes, liquor, beer and other items.
3. Add $2,855,000,000 a year to corporation income and excess profits taxes.
4. Raise $245,000,000 a year through a variety of changes in the tax law structure.

Senator George (D-Ga.), chairman of the Senate Finance Committee, said he thought the bill may be unduly harsh in its present form especially to unmarried income tax payers who contribute to the support of relatives but are not permitted to claim dependent deductions in figuring their taxes.

Senator McFarland (D-Ariz.), Senate majority floor leader, said taxes and economy would be major topics before a conference of Senate Democrats he has called for Tuesday, the day before George's committee takes up the tax bill.

Vote Is 233-160

The House passed the measure by a 233 to 160 vote, after rejecting by 220 to 117 a move to send it back to committee for major alterations.

Final size of the bill, George said, will depend on the extent to which Congress uses a pruning knife on multi-billion dollar appropriation bills in the next several weeks.

He said Congress "ought to cut the spending by at least $6,000,000,000," but he was not optimistic that any such reduction would be made.

However, George said, "if we can do that we can get by with a $5,000,000,000 tax increase instead of the figure proposed in the House bill."

He expressed doubt that the Senate will agree to make the individual income tax increases effective "before about Oct. 1," a month later than the House proposed.

Senator Millikin of Colorado, ranking Republican on the committee, told a reporter "you can be sure the committee will ransack the bill from end to end, and that when we get through it will be geared to government spending and what the economy can stand. It may be somewhat less than the House totals."

Move to Call Harriman From Europe May Prolong Hearing

Iran Willing to Accept U. S. Loan

Poses Ticklish Step in Our Effort to Tread Middle Ground

Washington, June 23 (AP)—Iran's willingness now to accept a $25,000,000 loan from the U. S. Export-Import Bank poses a ticklish step for this country in its effort to tread only middle ground in the British-Iranian dispute over oil nationalization.

The State Department said last night Iran now wants the loan toward which it once displayed marked coolness.

Granting of such aid would jibe to a tee with the United States' policy of helping free countries strengthen their economies against the threat of communism.

But it might be viewed by Britain—a valued anti-Communist ally—as a weapon against them in their fight to retain rich Iranian oil wealth.

When the idea of a loan from this country was first discussed with Iran last September, Iranian officials and newspapers complained that $25,000,000 would be far below economic assistance given other Communist-menaced nations.

Communist-backed Tudeh Party quickly stepped up its propaganda against the West. And some officials here were concerned that the Reds might succeed in taking over the Iranian government.

Iran, however, continued to hold a more-or-less middle course in its relations with East and West. Royalties from the British-owned Anglo-Iranian Oil Company contributed sizeable revenues for government operations.

But since Premier Mohammed Mossadegh has moved to take over the oil company, the government has been in a precarious financial state. The oil royalties were stopped by the company weeks ago when Mossadegh's government passed the nationalization law.

Although Iranian officials are now in the oil fields to take over the operations in the name of the Iranian government, company officials are holding on, and the British government is appealing for relief to the world court.

Still Has Hopes

London, June 23 (AP)—Russell Tongay of Miami, Fla., said today he still hopes to get British permission for his five-year-old son Bubba to swim the English Channel. "I'm going to have another stab at the immigration authorities this afternoon," he said. "I don't understand how they can bar us tourists." The Tongay family—Bubba, his four-year-old sister Kathy and his mother and dad—were detained by British immigration authorities when they landed at London Airport yesterday. They were refused permission to stay in the country and were asked to leave by tonight.

642 New Casualties

Washington, June 23 (AP)—The Defense Department today identified 642 additional U. S. casualties in Korea. List No. 335 reported 39 battle dead, 519 wounded, 54 missing in action, two prisoners of war and 28 injured in accidents.

Seamen Go Back To Atlantic and Gulf Coast Jobs

Shipping Companies to Continue Clean-Up Talks With Radiomen and Engineers

New York, June 23 (AP)—Shorter hours and higher wages brought CIO seamen back to their Atlantic and Gulf coast jobs today, but shipping operators still must settle with radiomen and engineers.

Federal mediators announced "complete agreement" between some 40 shipping companies and the CIO National Maritime Union (NMU) late last night after day-long negotiations.

The conciliators then expressed hopes the same companies would settle with the American Radio Association (CRA) and the National Marine Engineers' Beneficial Association (CNEBA) at meetings this morning and afternoon.

Joseph Curran, NMU president, said he expected the agreement for his union would set the pattern for the two smaller CIO unions.

Curran said NMU operations would be back to normal by midnight tonight. But whether American-flag ships resume sailings depends largely on the radiomen. Maritime law forbids vessels to sail without a radioman.

The seven-day tie-up by the 52,000-member NMU affected or threatened some 650 ships operating out of Atlantic and Gulf coast ports. At least 75 were immobilized in the port of New York.

Under the new two-year NMU contract, with its provisions retroactive to last Saturday, the union won an immediate 44-hour work-week at sea to be cut to 40 hours Dec. 16.

Previously, seamen worked 48 hours at sea. They will continue to work 40 hours while in port.

An eight per cent across-the-board wage increase was granted the NMU which had asked a 25 per cent raise.

Old pay scales ranged from $213.79 to $315.35 a month.

Paid vacations up to three weeks and semi-annual review of basic monthly wages and overtime rates also is provided for in the agreement. Joint committee will adjust inequities.

A fringe benefit provides that a washing machine be installed on every vessel for the crew's use.

Subsistence and lodging pay is increased from $6 to $8.

The NMU pay boost was in addition to a 6.38 per cent increase obtained last October.

Component parts of the settlement are subject to approval by the Wage Stabilization Board.

On the west coast, 300 radiomen tied up American flag shipping six days before they won a $39 monthly boost, about 11 per cent.

Thursday, the radiomen's old wage scale started at $352.

The eastern and gulf radiomen said last night they would not accept less than the west coast settlement.

Engineers now earn between $378.66 and $696.95 monthly.

Issues Challenge On Health Plan

Washington, June 23 (AP)—Congress seems unlikely to accept President Truman's challenge to write its own compulsory health insurance plan if it won't take the one he has been fighting for since 1945.

Mr. Truman said yesterday he would "go along with" any plan better than his own "or even one that is almost as good."

The President laid down the challenge and made the promise in a speech at cornerstone-laying ceremonies for the government's new $40,000,000 National Health Institute's clinical center in near-by Bethesda, Md.

In Chicago, Dr. J. W. Cline, president of the American Medical Association, replied that the bill is "already available and functioning."

GOP Holds City Caucus Tonight

There will be a Republican caucus in each of the election districts in Kingston tonight for the purpose of selecting three delegates to the Republican County Convention to be held at 11 a. m. Saturday, June 30, at the municipal auditorium.

On Monday at 8 p. m. there will be a Republican ward caucus in each of the wards of the city to select candidates for the offices of alderman and supervisor and also to select five delegates to the Republican City Convention to be held Monday, July 2, at the Court House at 8 p. m.

Dewey Plans Visit To Korean Front Early Next Month

Importance of Pacific to Free World Cited as Reason for Big Tour

Albany, N. J., June 23 (AP)—Governor Thomas E. Dewey will fly to the Korean warfront early next month as part of a 25,000-mile tour of critical areas in the Pacific.

The twice-defeated Republican candidate for president announced today he would leave July 1 by plane and would be gone a month.

Asked the purpose of his trip, Dewey said that "for a good many years I have felt the importance of the Pacific area and southeast Asia to the free world was critical."

"It is clear that our own security and that of the rest of the free world depends to a large extent on developments in the Pacific."

"I think it is important to go and see it first-hand, the way conditions are developing."

"We already have in process in this country arrangements for mutual defense and security with Japan, the Philippines, Australia and New Zealand."

"At the present time, each of those is separate, and the development of those arrangements is a matter of major importance over the next few years."

Dewey said that on the trip he would not be representing the United States government "or anyone else."

"I am traveling at my own expense. In answer to a question about the possibility of his plumping for a Pacific treaty of defense, similar to a North Atlantic Treaty, Dewey said with considerable vigor:

"I will not engage in any diplomatic forays."

Four Persons Injured In Route 9W Mishap

Four persons were injured Friday afternoon in a head-on collision on Route 9W six miles north of Kingston, state police reported.

Kingston Hospital authorities today said three of the injured were in "fair" condition. They were Doris Saile, and her daughter, Lois, about 18, both of 86 Livingston street, Saugerties; and Peter William Hill, 16, of Trinity rectory, Saugerties.

Also reported injured was Julian Wyncopp, 28 of Kerhonkson, troopers said.

The Saugerties residents were riding in an automobile driven by Hill, which collided with the automobile driven by Wyncopp, troopers reported. A third automobile, which has not been identified, may have been involved, troopers indicated. An investigation is being conducted by state police.

Apology Is Given

United Nations, N. Y., June 23 (AP)—The United States apologized to Pakistan yesterday for the arrest of three of its United Nations delegation's "womenfolk" by New Rochelle, N. Y., police who mistook them for gypsy shoplifters. In a letter Prof. A. S. Bokhari, head of the Pakistan delegation, Ernest Gross, acting chief U. S. delegate, said the authorities of New Rochelle had asked the United Nations mission (to the U.N.) to transmit "their sincere regrets for the humiliation and inconvenience caused them."

MacArthur on Ballot

Portland, Ore., June 23 (AP)—General Douglas MacArthur's name probably will appear on the 1952 Oregon Republican presidential primary ballot. Petitions to put it there were being circulated here today by F. E. Epton, active in county Republican politics. Only 1,000 signatures are needed. And under Oregon law, the consent of the candidate is not required.

Barter Agreement

New Delhi, India, June 23 (AP)—The government announced today it has signed a barter agreement to exchange "freely sold" goods for 100,000 tons of Russian wheat. Officials refused to say what Indian products would go to the Soviet Union.

Red Troops Believed Readying New Drive

Vast Hunt Underway For Plane

Rain Hampers Search in African Jungle for Plane With 40 Aboard

Help From Europe Continent-Based B-29's Due to Arrive Today to Assist

Dakar, French West Africa, June 23 (AP)—Rain-laden skies today hampered the vast air and ground search for a New York-bound Pan-American Constellation with 40 persons aboard, missing in jungle wilderness since yesterday.

Pan-American officials called the hunt "the greatest air search in history."

Taking part in the quest were all available civil and military planes in the region, plus United States Air Force bombers called in from far away bases.

Five U. S. Air Force B-17's arrived in Dakar during the night from their Azores base. They took off in a heavy overcast this morning to range the trackless wastes where the giant plane may have gone down.

Airport officials said a flight of 15 U. S. Air Force B-29's is expected to arrive during the day from continental Europe to help in the hunt.

Tribesmen in Hunt

Yesterday French, American and Liberian planes flew over the jungle area, as native tribesmen hacked their way along crocodile-infested streams into the rain-soaked bush.

A tornado raged through part of the Dakar area early yesterday. There was no indication whether the high winds might have struck the Constellation as it sought to land at Roberts Field, Liberia, during a tropical rain.

In his final contact yesterday, the pilot of the Constellation had messaged that the radio beam to his next scheduled stop—Dakar—had blacked out and he was returning to the Liberian airport which was built for American military planes during World War 2.

When last heard from, the plane had enough fuel for approximately another 11 hours flying time. If it stayed aloft with that much gasoline it would have flown as much as 3,000 miles from the point where it was last heard from. That could be out to sea, or far inland, as well as along the jungled coast.

Any kind of an emergency landing would be difficult, if not impossible, because of the terrain—made up mostly of 200-foot trees jammed together into choking jungle.

Confirmation Lacking

(There was no confirmation at Dakar, Paris or in New York of a report last night from Accra that the missing plane had made one landing at Roberts Field. It took off from Roberts for Dakar, according to this report, ran into trouble on the radio beam and headed back.)

The plane was on a regular flight from Johannesburg, South Africa, to New York via Leopoldville, Belgian Congo; Accra, Gold Coast; Dakar; Lisbon, Portugal and the Azores.

A magnetog gave trouble while crossing the Congo, but was reported at Accra, according to reports from that Gold Coast town.

The crew of nine was American, mostly from the New York metropolitan area, and four of the 31 passengers were booked through Idlewild Airport, N. Y.

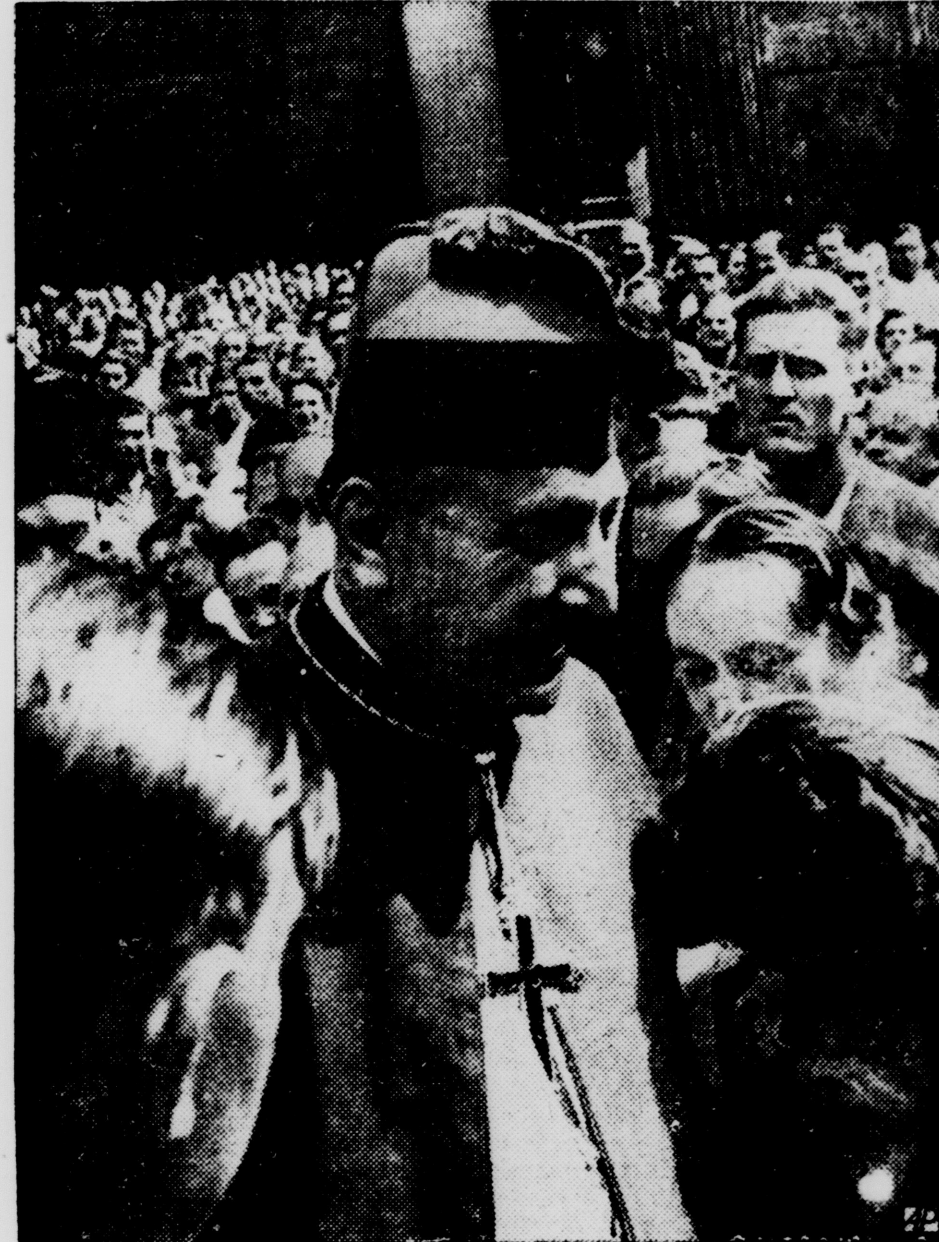

To Start Oil Hearings

The Hague, The Netherlands, June 23 (AP)—The World Court announced today it will start hearings next Saturday in the critical oil dispute between Iran and Britain. The Iranian government has nationalized the oil industry in Iran, which is mainly the British-owned billion dollar Anglo-Iranian Oil Company, and the British government has opposed this action with vigor. The British government owns 53 per cent of the stock of Anglo-Iranian.

Ban Is Decreed

Bogota, Colombia, June 23 (AP)—The Colombian government decreed a ban last night on exports of "strategic materials" to Communist China and North Korea, in compliance with the recommendation of the United Nations.

Archbishop Who Pleads 'Guilty'

Archbishop Jozsef Groesz (above), Cardinal Mindszenty's successor as head of the Roman Catholic Church in Hungary, pleaded "guilty" June 22 in Budapest to plotting the overthrow of his nation's Communist government. The archbishop and eight other defendants went on trial before the same judge who sent Cardinal Mindszenty to prison and also sentenced American Robert A. Vogel. This picture was taken last year as the archbishop left St. Stephen's Basilica in Budapest on St. Stephen's day.

Pleas of Reds For Stay Denied

Convicted Communists May Begin Their Terms Early Next Month

Washington, June 23 (AP)—The United States' 11 homegrown Communist leaders who were convicted of teaching the violent overthrow of their government may begin their prison terms early next month.

Justice Jackson, of the Supreme Court, late yesterday denied their pleas for stay of sentence until the high court gets back next fall from its summer recess.

The convicted men are Eugene Dennis, general secretary of the Communist party of the United States and his ten chief advisers. Together, they form the "Politburo"—executive council of communism in the United States. (Continued on Page 10, Col. 6)

Rubinstein Draft Trial on Monday

New York, June 23 (AP)—A federal court jury will start hearing testimony Monday in the trial of convicted draft dodger Serge Rubinstein on charges of mail fraud and violation of the Securities and Exchange Act.

Rubinstein, 43-year-old "boy wizard" of Wall Street and "international financier," faces a maximum penalty of 23 years in prison and $40,000 in fines if convicted on all charges.

He was released April 25 from the federal penitentiary at Lewis. (Continued on Page 3, Col. 8)

Mayer Plans Better Films After Quitting MGM Post

Hollywood, June 23 (AP)—Somebody stepped on the lion's tail out at MGM, and the lion is roaring. Louis B. Mayer, one of the founders of Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studio 26 years ago, said yesterday that he is resigning. He is not, however, quitting the motion picture business. He is just changing studios.

"I am going to be more active than I have at any time during the past 15 years," Mayer said through a spokesman.

Mayer is 65. He has been listed on Treasury Department rolls for years as America's highest paid executive. Some years his earnings topped $1,000,000.

His next job, said Mayer, "will be at a studio and under conditions where I shall have the right kind of pictures—decent, wholesome pictures for Americans and for people throughout the world who want and need this type of entertainment."

Malik to Blast U. S. Policies

Will Offer Peace Plans Already Rejected by United Nations

United Nations, N. Y., June 23 (AP)—Russia's Jacob A. Malik is expected today to blast American policies in Korea and offer a peace plan already rejected by the United Nations. The Soviet delegate will be heard in a recorded speech to be broadcast over the radio.

The Soviet deputy foreign minister, president of the Security Council this month, is scheduled to be heard over the Columbia Broadcasting System in the New York area at 4:15 p. m. (EST) today and in the remainder of the U. S. over CBS an hour later.

His declaration has been recorded in Russian by the United Nations and forms a part of a series of talks by UN delegates on the price of peace. The UN will send recordings of it for broadcast around the world, as it did with other talks in the series.

Malik has been heard in the U. S. by pick-ups of his speeches in the Security Council and the General Assembly. He has refused all previous attempts to get him to make a speech on the radio.

He was offered alternate dates by the United Nations Radio Division, which has put on the series, and he deliberately chose the week-end marking the first anniversary of the war in Korea.

His talk also comes as UN nations study an appeal from the United States government, acting through the UN, to end the war.

Foes' Resistance Stiffens During Bitter Battle All Along Front in Korea

Movements Seen

Heavy Enemy Traffic Is Spotted on Eastern Coast

Tokyo, June 23 (AP)—Bitter local battles flared today as Communist resistance stiffened all along the Korean battlefield. There were signs the Reds were getting ready for a new attack southward.

Allied patrols drew more Communist artillery than they had in several days. Aerial observers spotted southward troop movements. Traffic was heavy between Hamhung and southwest of Wonsan on the east coast.

The Reds mounted at least five probing attacks yesterday and today on the east-central front—usual springboard for Communist attacks southward. All were repulsed.

U. S. Sabre jets knocked two more Communist MIGs out of the sky and damaged three others Friday for their fifth straight victory over the Russian-made warplanes. The Fifth Air Force said one Sabre jet failed to return.

11 Planes Destroyed

The score in five days of aerial combat was 11 enemy planes destroyed, one probably destroyed and 21 damaged. Allied losses were two planes destroyed and two missing.

A B26 pilot, Capt. Richard H. Heyman of Stillwater, Okla., reported he shot down a night flying biplane. The Fifth Air Force said it was the type of craft that had been making heckler flights over UN lines.

Frontline officers have been predicting the Communists will throw a limited objective attack against the UN line about Monday, first anniversary of the war. Few think the Reds have had time to build up for an all-out offensive after the pasting they took in May.

Allied patrols in the extreme west made only slight contact. But two patrols probing northwest of Munsan and Korangpo were forced to withdraw. Munsan is 21 miles northwest of Seoul on the main northward road to Kaesong. Korangpo is 30 miles north of Seoul.

A patrol found fiercely resisting Reds west of Chonwon, southwestern anchor of the onetime Red iron triangle buildup area.

Forced to Withdraw

There enemy artillery forced them to withdraw. Mortar and artillery fire rained down on a UN patrol that drove to within tank fire range of Pongyang, apex of the former iron triangle. It was the nearest the allies had been to the city since they reentered it 10 days ago on a reconnaissance mission.

Another patrol on this front was stopped cold by 150 well dug in Chinese. An air strike drove the enemy into the open to furnish targets for artillery. Last reports said the surviving Chinese were surrounded.

Enemy Digging In

In the Kumhwa and Kumsong areas patrols spotted 100 enemy digging in and another 100 already in position. Three hundred others were reported moving south into Kumsong, suspected new enemy buildup area on the east central front.

East of Kumhwa, southwest anchor of the former buildup area, a probing attack was repulsed. But northwest of Hwachon, on the western shore of the sprawling Hwachon reservoir, two Red companies forced two UN groups to withdraw after a night battle.

A company strength Communist attack Friday made a slight penetration of allied positions northwest of Yanggu, east of the reservoir, but a counterattack restored the UN line.

Highway Crews Make Repairs on Route 28

State highway employees have been busy the past week repairing Route 28, Ontonagon Trail, between Kingston and West Hurley. Some of these repairs were necessary due to settling of the pavement. Others were on rough spots caused by action of anti-freeze spread with the sand on icy spots during the winter.

One spot much improved was near the Walker Farm turn and others on the Gled spots west and east of the picnic grounds.

Due to the small amount of repair material allocated to this section by the State Department of Public Works further repairs must be made later.

Four persons were injured Friday afternoon in a head-on collision on Route 9W six miles north of Kingston, state police reported.

Kingston Hospital authorities today said three of the injured were in "fair" condition. They were Doris Sale, and her daughter, Lois, about 18, both of 86 Livingston street, Saugerties; and Peter William Hill, 16, of Trinity rectory, Saugerties.

Also reported injured was Julian Wyncoop, 28, of Kerhonkson, troopers said.

The Saugerties residents were riding in an automobile driven by Hill, which collided with the automobile driven by Wyncoop, troopers reported. A third automobile, which has not been identified, may have been involved, troopers indicated. An investigation is being conducted by state police.

Apology Is Given

United Nations, N. Y., June 23 (AP)—The United States apologized to Pakistan yesterday for the arrest of three of its United Nations delegation's "womenfolk" by New Rochelle, N. Y., police who mistook them for gypsy shoplifters.

In a letter to Prof. A. S. Bokhari, head of the Pakistan delegation, Ernest Gross, acting chief U. S. delegate, said the authorities of New Rochelle had asked the United States mission (to the U.N.) to transmit "their sincere regrets for the humiliation and inconvenience caused them."

MacArthur on Ballot

Portland, Ore., June 23 (AP)—General Douglas MacArthur's name probably will appear on the 1952 Oregon Republican presidential primary ballot. Petitions to put it there were being circulated here today by F. E. Epton, active in county Republican politics.

Only 1,000 signatures are needed. And under Oregon law, the consent of the candidate is not required.

Barter Agreement

New Delhi, India, June 23 (AP)—The government announced today it has signed a barter agreement to exchange "freely sold" goods for 100,000 tons of Russian wheat. Officials refused to say what Indian products would go to the Soviet Union.

Red Troops Believed Ready for New Drive

Vast Hunt Underway For Plane

Rain Hampers Search in African Jungle for Plane With 40 Aboard

Help From Europe Continent-Based B-29's Due to Arrive Today to Assist

Dakar, French West Africa, June 23 (AP)—Rain-laden skies today hampered the vast air and ground search for a New York-bound Pan-American Constellation with 40 persons aboard, missing in jungle wilderness since yesterday.

Pan-American officials called the hunt "the greatest air search in history."

Taking part in the quest were all available civil and military planes in the region, plus United States Air Force bombers called in from far away bases.

Five U. S. Air Force B-17's arrived in Dakar during the night from their Azores base. They took off in a heavy overcast this morning to range the trackless wastes where the giant plane may have gone down.

Airport officials said a flight of 15 U. S. Air Force B-29's is expected to arrive during the day from continental Europe to help in the hunt.

Tribesmen in Hunt

Yesterday French, American and Liberian planes flew over the jungle area, as native tribesmen hacked their way along crocodile-infested streams into the rain-soaked bush.

A tornado raged through part of the Dakar area early yesterday. There was no indication whether the high winds might have struck the Constellation as it sought to land at Roberts Field, Liberia, during a tropical rain.

In his final contact yesterday, the pilot of the Constellation had messaged that the radio beam to his next scheduled stop—Dakar—had blacked out and he was returning to the Liberian airport which was built for American military planes during World War 2.

When last heard from, the plane had enough fuel for approximately another 11 hours flying time. If it stayed aloft with that much gasoline it would have flown as much as 3,000 miles from the point where it was last heard from. That could be out to sea, or far inland, as well as along the jungle coast.

Any kind of an emergency landing would be difficult, if not impossible, because of the terrain—made up mostly of 200-foot trees jammed together into choking jungle.

Confirmation Lacking

(There was no confirmation at MGM, Paris or in New York of a report last night from Accra that the missing plane had made one landing at Roberts Field. It took off from Roberts Field, Accra, according to this report, ran into trouble on the radio beam and headed back.)

The plane was on a regular flight from Johannesburg, South Africa, to New York via Leopoldville, Belgian Congo; Accra, Gold Coast; Dakar; Lisbon, Portugal and the Azores.

A magneto gave trouble while crossing the Congo, but was changed at Accra, according to reports from that Gold Coast town.

The crew of nine was American, mostly from the New York metropolitan area, and four of the 31 passengers were booked through Idlewild Airport, N. Y.

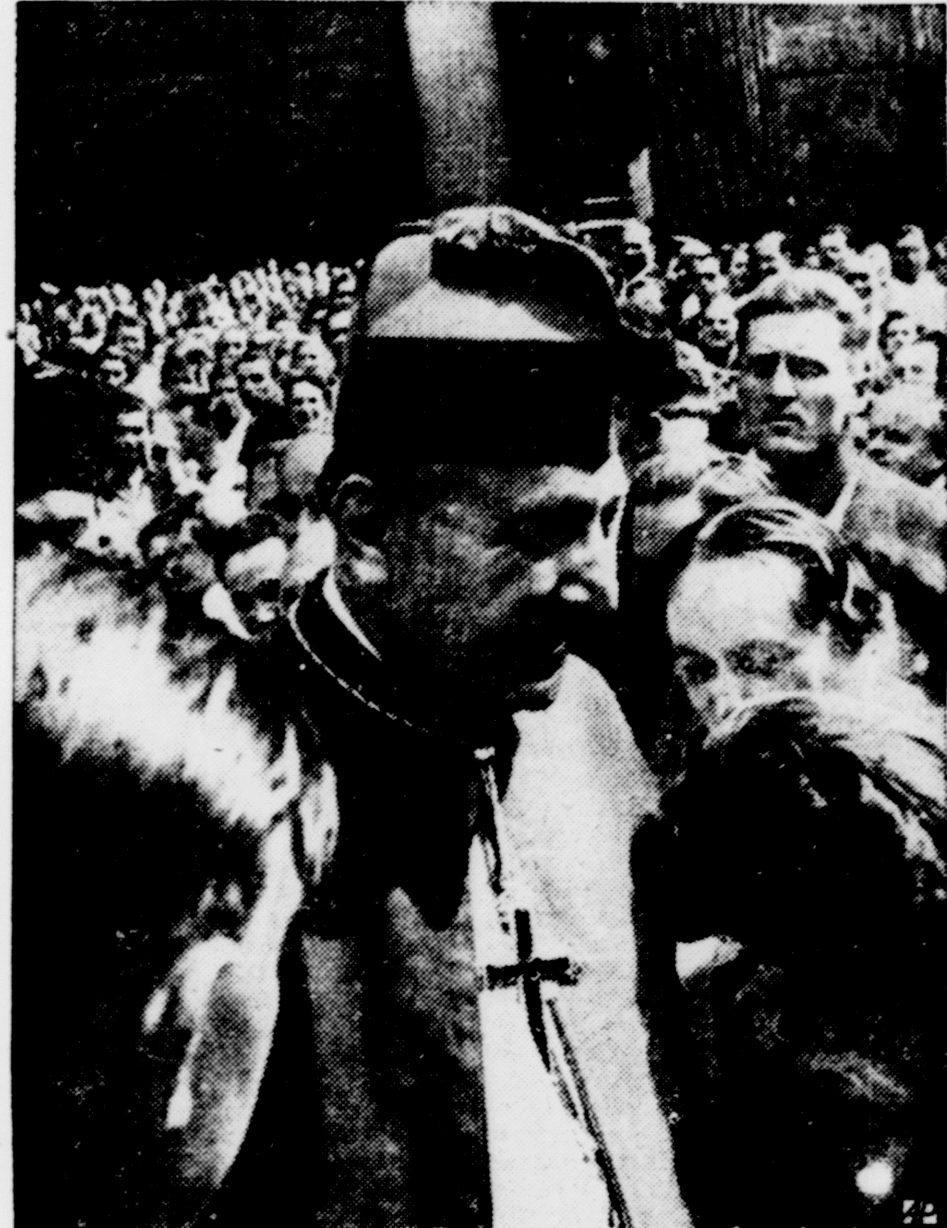

To Start Oil Hearings

The Hague, The Netherlands, June 23 (AP)—The World Court announced today it will start hearings next Saturday in the critical oil dispute between Iran and Britain. The Iranian government has nationalized the oil industry in Iran, which is mainly the British-owned billion dollar Anglo-Iranian Oil Company, and the British government has opposed this action with vigor. The British government owns 53 per cent of the stock of Anglo-Iranian.

Ban Is Decreed

Bogota, Colombia, June 23 (AP)—The Colombian government decreed a ban last night on exports of "strategic materials" to Communist China and North Korea, in compliance with the recommendation of the United Nations.

Archbishop Who Pleads 'Guilty'

Archbishop Jozsef Groesz (above), Cardinal Mindszenty's successor as head of the Roman Catholic Church in Hungary, pleaded "guilty" June 22 in Budapest to plotting the overthrow of his nation's Communist government. The archbishop and eight other defendants went on trial before the same judge who sent Cardinal Mindszenty to prison and also sentenced American Robert A. Vogel. This picture was taken last year as the archbishop left St. Stephen's Basilica in Budapest on St. Stephen's Day.

Pleas of Reds For Stay Denied

Convicted Communists May Begin Their Terms Early Next Month

Washington, June 23 (AP)—The United States' 11 homegrown Communist leaders who were convicted of teaching the violent overthrow of their government may begin their prison terms early next month.

Justice Jackson, of the Supreme Court, last night denied their pleas for stay of sentence until the high court gets back next fall from its summer recess.

The convicted men are Eugene Dennis, general secretary of the Communist party of the United States and his ten chief advisers. Together, they form the "Politburo"—executive council—of communism in the United States. (Continued on Page 10, Col. 6)

Rubinstein Draft Trial on Monday

New York, June 23 (AP)—A federal court jury will start hearing testimony Monday in the trial of convicted draft dodger Serge Rubinstein on charges of mail fraud and violation of the Securities and Exchange Act.

Rubinstein, 43-year-old "boy wizard" of Wall Street and international financier, faces a maximum penalty of 23 years in prison and $40,000 in fines if convicted on all charges.

He was released April 25 from the federal penitentiary at Lewis. (Continued on Page 3, Col. 8)

Mayer Plans Better Films After Quitting MGM Post

Hollywood, June 23 (AP)—Somebody stepped on the lion's tail at MGM, and the lion is roaring. Louis B. Mayer, one of the founders of Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studio 26 years ago, said yesterday that he is resigning. He is not, however, quitting the motion picture business. He is just changing studios.

"I am going to be more active than I have at any time during the past 15 years," Mayer said through a spokesman.

Mayer is 65. He has been listed on Treasury Department rolls for years as America's highest paid executive. Some years his earnings topped $1,000,000.

His next job, said Mayer, "will be at a studio and under conditions where I shall have the right kind of pictures—decent, wholesome pictures for Americans and for people throughout the world who want and need this type of entertainment."

Malik to Blast U. S. Policies

Will Offer Peace Plans Already Rejected by United Nations

United Nations, N. Y., June 23 (AP)—Russia's Jacob A. Malik is expected today to blast American policies in Korea and offer a peace plan already rejected by the United Nations. The Soviet delegate will be heard in a recorded speech to be broadcast over the radio.

The Soviet deputy foreign minister, president of the Security Council this month, is scheduled to be heard over the Columbia Broadcasting System in the New York area at 4:15 p. m. (EST) today and in the remainder of the U. S. over CBS an hour later.

His declaration has been recorded in Russian by the United Nations and forms a part of a series of talks by UN delegates on "the price of peace." The UN will send recordings of it for broadcast around the world as it did with other talks in the series.

Malik has been heard in the U. S. by pick-ups of his speeches in the Security Council and the General Assembly. He has refused all previous attempts to get him to make a speech on the radio.

He was offered alternate dates by the United Nations Radio Division, which has put on the series, and he deliberately chose the week-end marking the first anniversary of the war in Korea.

His talk also comes as UN nations study an appeal from the United States government, acting on June 22, to force the Chinese to withdraw from the Korean peninsula.

East of Kumhu, southwest anchor of the former build-up area, a probing attack was repulsed. But northwest of Hwachon, on the western shore of the sprawling Hwachon reservoir, two UN groups forced two UN groups to withdraw after a night battle.

A company strength Communist attack Friday made a slight penetration of allied positions northwest of Yanggu, east of the reservoir, but a counterattack restored the UN line.

Highway Crews Make Repairs on Route 28

State highway employees have been busy the past week repairing Route 28, Ontario Trail, between Kingston and West Hurley. Some of these repairs were necessary due to settling of the pavement.

Others were on rough spots caused by action of anti-freeze spread with the sand on icy spots during the winter.

One spot much improved was near the Walker Farm turn and others on the filled spots west and east of the picnic grounds.

Due to the small amount of repair material allocated to this section by the State Department of Public Works further repairs must be made later.

Foes' Resistance Stiffens During Bitter Battle All Along Front in Korea

Heavy Enemy Traffic Is Spotted on Eastern Coast

Tokyo, June 23 (AP)—Bitter local battles flared today as Communist resistance stiffened all along the Korean battlefield. There were signs the Reds were getting ready for a new attack southward.

Allied patrols drew more Communist artillery than they had in several days. Aerial observers spotted southward troop movements. Traffic was heavy between Hamhung and southwest of Wonsan on the east coast.

The Reds mounted at least five probing attacks yesterday and today on the east-central front—usual springboard for Communist attacks southward. All were repulsed.

U. S. Sabre jets knocked two more Communist MIGs out of the sky and damaged three others Friday for their fifth straight victory over the Russian-made warplanes. The Fifth Air Force said one Sabre jet failed to return.

11 Planes Destroyed

The score in five days of aerial combat was 11 enemy planes destroyed, one probably destroyed and 21 damaged. Allied losses were two planes destroyed and two missing.

A B-26 pilot, Capt. Richard H. Heyman of Stillwater, Okla., reported he shot down a night flying biplane. The Fifth Air Force said it was the type of craft that had been making heckler flights over UN lines.

Frontline officers have been predicting the Communists will throw a limited objective attack against the UN line about Monday, first anniversary of the war. Few think the Reds have had time to build up for an all-out offensive after the pasting they took in May.

Allied patrols in the extreme west met only slight contact. But two patrols probing northwest of Munsan and Korangpo were forced to withdraw. Munsan is 21 miles northwest of Seoul on the main northward road to Kaesong. Korangpo is 30 miles north of Seoul.

A patrol found fiercely resisting Reds west of Chorwon, southwestern anchor of the onetime Red iron triangle buildup area.

Forced to Withdraw

There enemy artillery forced them to withdraw. Mortar and artillery fire rained down on a UN patrol that drove to within tank fire range of Pyongyang, apex of the former iron triangle. It was the nearest the allies had been to the city since they reentered it 10 days ago on a reconnaissance mission.

Another patrol on this front was stopped cold by 150 well dug in Chinese. An air strike drove the enemy into the open to furnish targets for artillery. Last reports said the surviving Chinese were surrounded.

Enemy Digging In

In the Kumhu and Kumsong areas patrols spotted 100 enemy digging in and another 100 already in position. Three hundred others were reported moving south into Kumsong, suspected new enemy buildup area on the east central front.

East of Kumhu, southwest anchor of the former build-up area, a probing attack was repulsed. But northwest of Hwachon, on the western shore of the sprawling Hwachon reservoir, two UN groups forced two UN groups to withdraw after a night battle.

SHOKAN NEWS

Shokan, June 23—Edward Finn was numbered among the Kingston businessmen calling in the hub of the reservoir country Thursday.

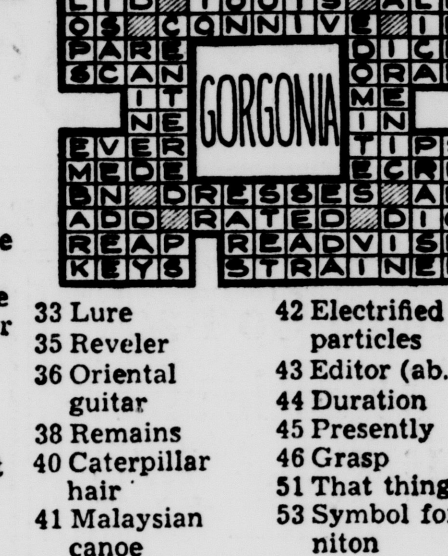

Bill Jackson was home from Schenectady for the week-end. Katherine Yerry and Arthur Van Gasbeck of Accord were Sunday callers at the home of Mrs. Maynard DeLong.

The Howard Richard family of New York are occupying the recently improved summer home in the village center.

Never was so much moving of heavy machinery up and down Route 28, or Ontario Trail, according to one local observer. Tons in this line was a huge power shovel, belonging to John Arborio of Poughkeepsie, which went up Thursday afternoon. Two king-size platform trucks were required to tote this modern behemoth.

Robert Merrihew of the west side of the reservoir has been doing outside masonry work on the Tontic Mountain place of Geo. W. Pratt of Highland for the past several years. Rob is especially good at building fireplaces on the spacious grounds of the one time Lemuel Winchell farmhouse. James Allen and sisters, Julia have breakfast at the church. At 9:45 a. m., the church school will meet for promotion exercises and the closing session before summer. The following children will be promoted: from nursery to kindergarten, Susan Baker, John Bream, Stephen LeFever, Mary Moseley, Robert Peterson, Patricia Reina; from kindergarten to primary, Dolores Fatum, John Gross, Karla Lefren, David Tarr; from primary to junior, Robert Antworth, Sandra Buehring, Linn Carl, Linda Decker, Donald Dittus, Robert Every, Judith Haines, Beverly Lewis, Marie Schumra, and Albert Teetsel; from junior to intermediate, Robert and Roxella Abbott, Joan Black, Richard Bunting, Richard Carnright, Douglas Chase, Margaret Clearwater, Patricia Dougherty, Robert Moseley, Ariene Winne, Peter Showers, and Barbara Turner. Four students have a perfect attendance record: Robert Every, Peter Showers, Harry Reppert, Jr., and Estelle Fatum. Two teachers have been present each Sunday, Miss Joan Wells from the primary department and Mrs. Minnie Dunnagan from the adult department. The summer service of Holy Communion will be at 11 a. m. A nursery will be provided for small children whose parents attend church. The regular monthly meeting of the Wesleyan Service Guild will be held Tuesday at 6:15 p. m. with a picnic supper on the church lawn, followed at 7:30 p. m. by the installation of the newly elected officers. Supper reservations should be made at once with one of the following: Mrs. Lucie Baker at 3095, or Mrs. Reynolds Van Keuren at 790-W. During the month of July the services of the St. James and Clinton Avenue churches will be held in the Clinton Avenue Methodist Church.

Misunderstood Manner
New York, June 23 (AP)—Miss Claire Carroll, 22, of 252 91st street, Brooklyn, had Philippe Alphonse Dionne, 50, a Graybar building elevator operator, arrested yesterday, she said, when she chanced to be alone in the car with him he seized, embraced, and fondled her, and showered kisses on her face and neck. In night court he pleaded guilty to disorderly conduct, and said he misunderstood Miss Carroll's friendly manner. Magistrate Morris Ploscowe fined him $25 and imposed a suspended sentence of 10 days.

Is Named Director
Washington, June 23 (AP)—Defense Transportation Administrator James K. Knudsen yesterday appointed Samuel L. Newman, Flushing, N. Y., as director of DTA's manpower division. Newman was general vice president of the International Association of Machinists for the northeastern states until late last year, when he retired.

MacLeod and May Roach, are at the Allen place on the old state road. They plan to raze part of the old house and keep one section for summer purposes.

Having a birthday Saturday, June 23, is Kurt Adels, one of three sons of John and Emmy Adels of Ashokan. He is married and has made his home in Minneapolis for the past several years. A practically new bake shop business in Delhi will close its doors in August but the proprietors will continue their successful shop at Margaretville. Reason given for quitting in the Delaware county capital: "too many bakes."

The trim-work of the local telephone automatic central brick building was repainted during the week. The Bell stockholders have an attractive piece of property here. Strangers probably take the little red building, with its solid green shutters, slate roof and well kept lawn, for the cute little domicile of some fortunate young couple.

The new Catholic Church along the trail at Boileville reportedly will be dedicated Sunday, July 1 at 10:30 a. m. Local and summer season Catholics now have a choice of five churches within 20 minutes drive from Shokan.

Woodstock Church Plans Revivals

The Rev. Virgil E. Maybray, pastor of the First Methodist Church, Sharpville, Pa., will conduct a series of revival services starting Sunday, June 24, at the Woodstock Methodist Church.

Services will continue nightly, except Saturday, at 8 o'clock through July 1. Sermon subjects during the series will include the following: Fugitives From the Love of God, 20th Century Problem, First Century Problem; Repent or Repudiate, the Church of the Living Dead, Man Centered Religion, Christian Assurance and Behold the Lamb.

All four churches of the Woodstock circuit will have services at their regular appointed hours on June 24. All churches will be combined in a special union communion service at 11:15 a. m. July 1.

Dr. Kenneth Howe,
New Paltz, Accepts
Appointment in Japan

DR. KENNETH E. HOWE

Dr. Kenneth E. Howe resigned his position as professor of education and chairman of the education division of New Paltz State Teachers College recently, to accept an appointment as educational consultant with the Institute for Educational Leadership Mission to Japan.

The appointment came after the leading universities of Japan asked the ministry of education and civil information, and the Education Section, General Headquarters, Supreme Commander for the Allied Powers for special assistance for the coming academic year.

Dr. Howe, it was announced, will be one of a group of 15 leading educators who will consult with Japanese leaders. The group will help to initiate and organize professional education programs for the preparation of elementary teacher consultants and administrators.

Other posts Dr. Howe has held include serving as executive secretary of the Mid-Hudson School Study Council; chairman of the Teacher Education Committee of the southeastern zone of the New York State Teachers Association; member of the state committee for teacher education of the NYSTA; and college representative to the House of Delegates of the NYSTA. He has also served on the educational advisory committee of the savings division in the Treasury Department in Washington, D. C.

During the summer, Dr. Howe will be a staff member at the University of Illinois. He will leave for Japan by air August 24. During his absence his wife and children will remain in New Paltz.

Old First Reformed Church Is the Scene
Of Miss Amy Louise Millonig's Marriage

The city's Old First Reformed Church set the scene last night for the marriage of Miss Amy Louise Millonig, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Millonig, 99 Clinton avenue, to Robert Alan MacKinnon, son of Mr. and Mrs. John MacKinnon, 181 North Manor avenue. Performing the 8 o'clock ceremony, was the Rev. Arthur E. Oudemool of that congregation.

Organist for the candlelight service was Robert Wolfersteig of Westminster Choir College, Princeton, N. J. Mr. Wolfersteig played, in addition to traditional wedding pieces, selections from Bach and Purviss.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a tunic style period gown, falling to a soft train. The skirt was of pleated nylon net, and her bodice, tulle, and long mitts were of imported Chantilly lace. Her imported fingertip silk illusion veil fell from a cap of matching lace. She carried a prayer book covered with white lilies-of-the-valley and swansons.

Miss Alice Millonig was honor attendant for her sister, Miss Millonig's gown was of white Swiss organdy, over white tulle, cut with a fitted bodice, mandarin neckline and a bouffant skirt bordered in eyelet embroidery. Her costume was completed with a white velvet sash, a Chinese flower arrangement for her hair, and a cascade bouquet of white Gerber daisies.

The bride's other attendants were the Misses Judy Fessenden, 116 Fair street; Dorothy Walter, 58 Montrose avenue; Patricia Merritt, Rome, and Joan Gee, Waynesboro, Pa. Their gowns and flowers were identical to those of the maid of honor.

Best man for the groom was Robert O'Reilly of 132 St. James street. Ushers were Henry Millonig, brother of the bride; Jack Campbell, 84 Roosevelt avenue; John Shults, 60 Highland avenue, and Norman Friedlander, 320 Central Park West, New York.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception for approximately 200 guests was held at the Governor Clinton Hotel. The couple then left for their wedding trip to Hanover, N. H. Mrs. MacKinnon chose a silk-tweed shantung suit of beige flanked with green for traveling, with matching green accessories. Mr. and Mrs. MacKinnon will make their home in this city.

The bride was graduated from Kingston High School, and Oberlin Conservatory of Music, class of '47. She is now doing graduate work at New York University.

Mr. MacKinnon is a graduate of Kingston High School and Dartmouth College, class of '48. He is continuing his studies at Albany Law School, and is doing summer work at New York University.

In contrast, he described Japan as a country that is always green, with rugged, picturesque mountains, surrounded by blue sea and sky.

Mr. Viglielmo stressed that Japan's Christian churches are her centers of education, particularly in rural communities.

Following the meeting there was a social hour, when the hostess served refreshments.

Summer Slip Can Double as Dress

By GAILE DUGAS
NEA Staff Writer

New York—(NEA)—The summer slip that's designed to double as a dress is, to the woman on a budget, the biggest thing since the day of free dishes at the neighborhood movie.

Not only can these slips be worn as dresses, they can also do duty as summer blouses. They can combine with plain sheaths and brief jackets to make up an ensemble. Of course, all of this does raise the question: Is she wearing a slip under her slip? If so, which kind? Could it, too, double as a dress?

Let the whole thing become too complicated, let's make it clear right now that the woman who buys a slip-dress (or a dress-slip) is on her own. She may invent, or camouflage, but there are no specific instructions from the designers.

Black rayon taffeta, enlivened by bright red jacquard polka dots, is cut into a slip that has wide straps, a cuffed top and a shallow, scalloped hem. This slip can, with the addition of a stole, go to parties after five.

Black-and-white checked rayon taffeta makes a sheath-slip with slim lines. The skirt is slightly gored; bodice fits smoothly. Straps are fairly wide.

For touring art galleries, there's a white rayon crepe slip that's highlighted with gold print. It has a cuffed top and is adaptable to the blouse-and-skirt idea. It could also go to informal parties with the addition of a black sheath in a sheer fabric.

Issues Challenge

ing admirably" a better program—"the American medical system."

No Progress Seen

Although there was no immediate concerted critical comment from opponents of the President's plan, which would levy payroll taxes on individuals to pay their medical bills, reaction in general was that Mr. Truman's new proposal would get nowhere in the present Congress.

In yesterday's speech, Mr. Truman estimated that less than 4,000,000 Americans have "reasonably complete medical care insurance" and 75,000,000 have none at all, while "skyrocketing medical costs are pushing millions of Americans into the medically indigent class."

Declaring that the plan he has been proposing unsuccessfully since 1945 is sound and would greatly strengthen the nation, the President said:

"I am concerned in the slightest with pride of authorship. What I want is a good workable plan that will enable all Americans to pay for the medical care they need. And * * * if the people who have been blocking health insurance for five years will come up with a better proposal—or even one that is almost as good—I'll go along with them."

Aerial Defense Tryout

Colorado Springs, Colo., June 23 (AP)—Eight thousand observation posts in the United States were manned by more than 210,000 volunteer spotters today in a vast tryout of the nation's aerial defenses. Military planes of the United States and Canada participated in the week-end exercise, flying over predetermined routes to give the spotters practice in reporting movement of aircraft. Their reports will go through 26 filter centers to Regional Air Defense Headquarters at Newburgh, N. Y., Kansas City and Hamilton, Field, Calif. Headquarters of the nation's air defense command is at Colorado Springs.

ing as the unified command for the UN forces in Korea, for more troops to fight the Communists.

The United States, on behalf of General Matthew B. Ridgway and the U. S. forces, appealed Thursday night for troops from those countries which backed the UN decisions to resist aggression in Korea but which have not yet sent ground forces. The U. S. letter to Secretary-General Trygve Lie said there is a "real need for additional forces from member states in the light of massive Chinese Communist concentrations in the area and of their continuing aggression."

Lie, now in Europe, directed that the appeal be sent to 39 countries with a letter requesting their governments to give earnest consideration to the appeal "in the light of the necessity of strengthening the collective effort in Korea so long as the aggressor continues to fight against the United Nations forces there."

Still Probe Planes

London, June 23 (AP)—Czechoslovakia has informed the United States that it still is investigating whether the pilots of two American jets which landed on Czech territory June 8 were really lost on a training flight. The Czech news agency CTK said Foreign Minister Vilem Siroky sent a personal note to U. S. Ambassador Ellis Briggs at Prague claiming that American pilots have been flying considerable distances into Czechoslovakia during recent months and said these flights had "exactly defined objectives."

In addition, the government reportedly will attempt to deport Rubinstein to Portugal after the trial is complete. He was born in Russia.

Rubinstein is accused of violating SEC laws by devising a scheme to sell stock in the Panhandle Producing and Refining Co. by means of false and misleading statements. Rubinstein is also charged with using the mails to further this plan.

He also will be tried on a second indictment charging conspiracy, with Frank E. Bliss, to commit the same violations. Bliss will get a separate trial.

Dr. Kenneth Howe,
New Paltz, Accepts
Appointment in Japan

DR. KENNETH E. HOWE
Dr. Kenneth E. Howe resigned his position as professor of education, and chairman of the education division of New Paltz State Teachers College recently, to accept an appointment as educational consultant with the Institute for Educational Leadership Mission to Japan.

The appointment came after the leading universities of Japan asked the ministry of education and civil information, and the Education Section, General Headquarters, Supreme Commander for the Allied Powers for special assistance for the coming academic year.

Dr. Howe, it was announced, will be one of a group of 15 leading educators who will consult with Japanese leaders. The group will help to initiate and organize professional education programs for the preparation of elementary teacher consultants and administrators.

Other posts Dr. Howe has held include serving as executive secretary of the Mid-Hudson School Study Council; chairman of the Teacher Education Committee of the southeastern zone of the New York State Teachers Association; member of the state committee for teacher education of the NYSTA, and college representative to the House of Delegates of the NYSTA. He has also served on the educational advisory committee of the savings division in Washington, D. C.

During the summer, Dr. Howe will be a staff member at the University of Illinois. He will leave for Japan by air August 24. During his absence his wife and children will remain in New Paltz.

Old First Reformed Church Is the Scene
Of Miss Amy Louise Millonig's Marriage

The city's Old First Reformed Church set the scene last night for the marriage of Miss Amy Louise Millonig, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Millonig, 99 Clinton avenue, to Robert Alan MacKinnon, son of Mr. and Mrs. John MacKinnon, 181 North Manor avenue. Performing the 8 o'clock ceremony was the Rev. Arthur E. Oudemool of that congregation. Organist for the candlelight service was Robert Wolfersteig of Westminster Choir College, Princeton, N. J. Mr. Wolfersteig played, in addition to traditional wedding pieces, selections from Bach and Purvis.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a tunic style period gown, falling to a soft train. The skirt was of pleated nylon net, and her bodice, tunic, and long mitts were of imported Chantilly lace. Her imported fingertip silk illusion veil fell from a cap of matching lace. She carried a prayer book covered with white lilies-of-the-valley and swansonia.

Miss Alice Millonig was honor attendant for her sister, Miss Millonig's gown was of white Swiss organdy, over white tulle, cut with a fitted bodice, mandarin neckline and a bouffant skirt bordered in eyelet embroidery. Her costume was completed with a white velvet sash, a Chinese flower arrangement for her hair, and a cascade bouquet of white Gerber daisies.

The bride's other attendants were the Misses Judy Fessenden, 116 Fair street; Dorothy Walter, 58 Montrose avenue; Patricia Merritt, Rome, and Joan Gee, Waynesboro, Pa. Their gowns and flowers were identical to those of the maid of honor.

Best man for the groom was Robert O'Reilly of 132 St. James street. Ushers were Henry Millonig, brother of the bride; Jack Campbell, 84 Roosevelt avenue; John Shults, 60 Highland avenue, and Norman Friedlander, 320 Central Park West, New York.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception for approximately 200 guests was held at the Governor Clinton Hotel. The couple then left for their wedding trip to Hanover, N. H. Mrs. MacKinnon chose a silk-tweed shantung suit of beige flacked with green for traveling, with matching green accessories. Mr. and Mrs. MacKinnon will make their home in this city.

The bride was graduated from Kingston High School, and Oberlin Conservatory of Music, class of '47. She is now doing graduate work at New York University.

Mr. MacKinnon is a graduate of Kingston High School and Dartmouth College, class of '48. He is continuing his studies at Albany Law School, and is doing summer work at New York University.

In contrast, he described Japan as a country that is always green, with rugged, picturesque mountains, surrounded by blue sea and sky.

Mr. Viglielmo stressed that Japan's Christian churches are her centers of education, particularly in rural communities.

Following the meeting there was a social hour, when the hostess served refreshments.

Special Program
The Church of God in Christ, 9 Mill street, will hold a special program Sunday at 3 p. m. featuring Miss Kate Smith. The public is invited.

Black-and-white checked rayon taffeta makes a sheath-slip with slim lines. The skirt is slightly gored; bodice fits smoothly. Straps are fairly wide.

For touring art galleries, there's a white rayon crepe slip that's highlighted with gold print. It has a cuffed top and is adaptable to the blouse-and-skirt idea.

It could also go to informal parties with the addition of a black sheath in a sheer fabric.

Black rayon taffeta, enlivened by bright red jacquard polka dots, is cut into a slip that has wide straps, a cuffed top and a shallow, scalloped hem. This slip can, with the addition of a stole, go to parties after five.

Summer Slip Can Double as Dress

By GAILE DUGAS

NEA Staff Writer

New York—(NEA)—The summer slip that's designed to double as a dress is, to the woman on a budget, the biggest thing since the day of free dishes at the neighborhood movie.

Not only can these slips be worn as dresses, they can also do duty as summer blouses. They can combine with plain sheaths and brief jackets to make up an ensemble.

Of course, all of this does raise the question: Is she wearing a slip under her slip? If so, which kind? Could it, too, double as a dress?

Least the whole thing become too complicated, let's make it clear right now that the woman who buys a slip-dress (or a dress-slip) is on her own. She may invent, or camouflage, but there are no specific instructions from the designers.

ing as the unified command for the UN forces in Korea, for more troops to fight the Communists.

The United States, on behalf of General Matthew B. Ridgway and the U. S. forces, appealed Thursday night for troops from those countries which backed the UN decisions to resist aggression in Korea but which have not yet sent ground forces. The U. S. letter to Secretary-General Trygve Lie said there is a "real need for additional forces from member states in the light of massive Chinese Communist concentrations in the area and of their continuing aggression."

Lie, now in Europe, directed that the appeal be sent to 39 countries with a letter requesting their governments to give earnest consideration to the appeal "in the light of the necessity of strengthening the collective effort in Korea so long as the aggressor continues to fight against the United Nations forces there."

KINGSTON, NEW YORK, JUNE 23, 1951

A TIME FOR ANGER

A racketeer who promotes and profits from the narcotics addiction of children has struck deeply into our society. He is condemned in the bitterest terms, but the rest of us are concerned, too. Somehow we have failed to give our children the protection they should have.

The voices of children helpless in the grip of the narcotics habit, heard in the New York investigation, form an indictment against the depravity of the narcotics peddlers. Addiction to dope does not come about by chance; it must be cultivated. The peddlers do the cultivating, for the sake of the extortionate profits of their trade. The damage done to the lives of their child victims is terrible; it can become irreparable. This means nothing to them.

It would not be enough to wipe out the organizations of degenerate criminals who put marijuana and heroin into the hands of children and teach them their use. The rottenness from which these evil ones came must be cleaned up. Slums, municipal corruption, and public toleration of crime and illegality are the roots of this malignant growth. One crime breeds another.

This is a time for anger, for cold and reasoned anger but for anger none the less. We may need stronger laws and better enforcement of them. But we also need the aroused awareness of every citizen, for every citizen is responsible for the conditions of his community.

With school vacations underway and children spending most of their time at home it would not be surprising if more mothers come to agree with those who feel that teachers are underpaid.

BLACK MARKET CURE

Some city councils and other legislative bodies have been considering laws to keep black markets in check, in case they should develop in the expected shortage of beef or in some other commodity scarcity. Presumably these would be laws providing specific penalties for black market operations, and perhaps providing for special enforcement agencies.

Such measures might help to keep black markets under cover. But there is one sure remedy for black markets, possibly the only remedy which can be really effective. This is for people to refuse to buy on the black market. If there are no customers, there will be no market.

There's nothing like a cold shower in the morning; in fact there's nothing but a cold one after the rest of the family takes all the hot ones.

THIS IS THE COY YEAR

THE CHINA LOBBY

Three factors enter into the propaganda of any country within the United States:

1. The legitimate provision of information and propaganda. Such agencies are maintained in the United States by nearly all countries, probably the largest being the British.

American employees of such organizations are required by law to register as foreign agents. This list has heretofore always been a public document, available to anyone who cared to look at it. For some reason, not readily understood, this has now become a secret list, perhaps to protect Washington lawyers.

2. The various organizations of Americans who voluntarily spend their own time and money being pro or anti this or that. The country is full of them. As regards China, there are a number of associations in favor of Nationalist or Communist China. Some of these have been effective.

3. The clandestine effort of foreign governments by diverse means to influence public opinion. These are naturally not always traceable. For instance, Nationalist China had, during the war years, set up agencies in Washington under the general management of T. V. Soong, David Corcoran (brother of Tommy) and Ludwik Rajchman to operate various enterprises in connection with loans, supplies, etc. Whether such an agency also engaged in influencing views, I do not know. The natural supposition must be that every country seeks to win friends and does the best it can to do so. The winning of friendship is a gentle art with many techniques.

Soviet Russia employed Amtorg in numerous ways, from trade and commerce to espionage. To what extent other governments employ similar agencies for these purposes has never been established in a quotable manner.

The phrase, "The China Lobby," has thus far not been defined as belonging to the categories described above. If it is found that an agency of the Chinese government employed a publicity firm, such as the Allied Syndicates, Inc. or some other, this is legitimate and there can be no criticism either of the employer or the employee. The Allied Syndicates has been close to the Democratic Party, having had John Sullivan, former secretary of the navy, and Clark Clifford, former counsel to the President, associated with it. It has also been suggested that a member of the President's office had recommended this firm.

There can be no reasonable objection to the employment of this firm for straight publicity work, if that is what they did. I have no information to the contrary.

The cry against "The China Lobby" originated in the Russell Committee among those senators who are violently anti-MacArthur. Their object is to detract attention from the failings of the administration to the protagonists of Chiang Kai-shek. Their butt is not the hired public relations counsel nor even the Chinese themselves; it is to bring odium to American citizens who have spent their own time and money to oppose or support the policies of China. They would like to pillory Alfred Kohlberg, a citizen who is devoted to anti-Communism.

The reason that these politicians hate Kohlberg is that they believe that he is responsible for Senator Joe McCarthy—which would be something for anyone to take on. Joe McCarthy and Kohlberg are friends and serve in the same cause. So are a great many other Americans. It will do no harm to bring it all into the open, not by smearing nor by sly, undefined accusations, but by setting forth the virtue of these Americans who inhibited the State Department policy of aiding Communist China.

As a matter of fact, it is encouraging to see Americans put up the fight they have against Communist China. Perhaps had there been no Kohlbergs, Soviet Russia would, by now, be in Burma, Siam and Iran.

I know this man and have often wondered at his fanatical insistence in a tough fight. A merchant, he has devoted time, money and experience to the fight. He got into it by accident; that is, he believed that the Institute of Pacific Relations of which he had been a member and to which he had contributed, had misrepresented itself to him. He got sore.

The more he got into that fight, the more he recognized that the battle had to be broadened until it included an attack on all Communist activity, particularly right here in the United States.

He has proved to be an effective fighter and a competent leader in a good cause. Investigators of Kohlberg have had a tough time discovering any anti-American attitudes.

That Body of Yours

By James W. Barton, M.D.

BLOATING NOT ALWAYS DUE TO GAS

When bloating occurs, there is no question but that in most cases foods like cabbage, lettuce, cauliflower and other green vegetables are the cause. Unfortunately, salads made up of these foods are very commonly eaten and many individuals prefer to obtain these vegetables in a raw state rather than cooked. These individuals would sooner undergo the bloating and pressure than do without their raw vegetables and fruits.

Some months ago I recorded the findings of Dr. Walter Alvarez of the Mayo Clinic whose research work on digestion and constipation is known to most physicians. I quoted Dr. Alvarez as stating that all bloating is not caused by gas formation. As this statement will be a surprise to many I am recording again some findings about nongaseous bloating.

In Archives of Internal Medicine, Dr. Alvarez describes a syndrome (group of symptoms) consisting of pronounced bloating due to contraction or tightening of abdominal muscles and often to assuming a lordotic (bending backward) posture which forces the abdomen forward.

Commonly the swelling increases gradually during the afternoon and decreases at night without passage of gas. X-rays of a bloated abdomen never shows excess of gas and opening up of the abdomen by operation reveals no cause for the bloating.

In a series of 92 patients, 85 of whom were women and 7 men, almost all were nervous, unhappy, and easily upset emotionally. Many were relatives of insane persons or of persons with epilepsy, migraine or diabetes. Most patients had good digestion between and sometimes during attacks of bloating. Bloating often began after excitement, annoyance, fright or fatigue. Close examination by the physician and laboratory examinations failed to show any cause for these attacks of bloating.

The bloating disappeared and the abdomen became flat a few seconds after: (1) use of an anesthetic by inhalation or injection into the spine; (2) blocking of the splanchnic nerve (nerves controlling organs in lower part of chest and of the whole abdomen) with procaine; (3) onset of vomiting; (4) giving of morphine; (5) doubling up so as to relieve strain of bending backwards.

Most patients lost the bloated appearance when lying down, especially if things were bent on the abdomen.

Trying to keep mind and body relaxed is the treatment.

Elbow Room Only

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

Washington — The President jokingly admitted the other day that he had given daughter Margaret a fatherly briefing about European gigolos before she left the country. The admission was made in a chat with Harold Russell, national commander of Amvets, when Russell was commenting on the good-will aspects of Margaret's trip.

"She's a better ambassador than anyone we've got over there," the Amvets boss told Margaret's proud papa.

"I swell up like a puffed-up pup whenever I hear that," Truman beamed. "It's hard for me to realize that she's grown up. I still think of her as a child."

The President held out his hand about even with the top of his desk.

"In fact, I still call her 'baby' sometimes, but I warned her before she left that I didn't want any of those two-legged—"

Truman paused, decided against a stronger word.

"Guys over there calling her by that name."

Chinese War Lobby

If the Senate ever carries out its threat to probe the China lobby, it will unearth an attempt to organize the Chinatown's in 45 American cities with a view to putting the United States into a full-scale war with China.

It will also find that a foreign political party—the Kuomintang—is operating in this country under a system somewhat comparable to the German Bund.

The aim of the Kuomintang in this country is spelled out as follows: "To secure and maintain the interest of the Chinese people of the United States to aid and further the aims of the central executive committee of the Kuomintang."

Thus, the Kuomintang is the only political party in the United States, besides the Communists, whose first allegiance is to a foreign government. Furthermore, the Kuomintang is not only officially dedicated to bringing the United States into an all-out war with China, but as the first step, its American branches are working with the China lobby in bombarding Congress with telegrams and letters.

Significantly, loyal Chinese

Americans have steered clear of the Kuomintang, just as they have the Communist. So far, the Kuomintang has succeeded in enrolling only 3,825 members in 45 cities—a mere handful of the total Chinese-American population.

Who's Who in Kuomintang

Kuomintang headquarters is located at 844 Stockton street in San Francisco's Chinatown. Its directors include Pei Chi Liu, ex-official of the Nationalist Ministry of Education; Fong Chee, former counselor to the Nationalists' Kwangtung provincial government, which would correspond to a state government in this country; and Yong Chang Yu, former specialist for the legislative Yuan, one of five controlling Yuans of the Nationalist government.

The most influential director up until his death recently was Kwong Ping Shun, who actually belonged to the Nationalist Legislature and attended sessions in China, while at the same time directing the Kuomintang in this country and maintaining an official residence in San Francisco.

Other Kuomintang directors in this country are importers, whose chief trade is with Formosa and whose business depends upon the Nationalist government. They include Hoo Shuek, Fong W. Doon, Fong Yue and Chin Dook Jow.

Another director, Hung Joe Wong, is assistant manager of "The Young China," a pro-Kuomintang, Chinese-language newspaper published in San Francisco.

The Kuomintang in this country is also organized into five regions under the leadership of Chai Jack San, San Francisco; Louie Mon Ben, San Antonio, Tex.; Ng Shi Jam, Portland, Ore.; Yee Jan Tsong, New York City; and Show Kwong Jing, Chicago.

To help finance its activities, the Kuomintang owns several apartment houses and operates the Chien-Kuo (Chinese) Language School in San Francisco.

Taxpayers Pay Again—The two Colorado senators—Johnson, a Democrat, and Millican, a Republican—have set up a special office on Capitol Hill to solicit war contracts for Colorado firms.

The office is run by Ed Keating, who was put on Johnson's payroll, while Millican contributed a secretary from his Senate payroll. Actually, however, it is the taxpayers who pay all the bill, so that Colorado companies can get favored treatment. For the taxpayers pay the salaries of this office and also pay for the office space—all to help Colorado. If every senator did this for his state, the Senate building would be swamped.

Meanwhile, Senator Douglas of Illinois can't find office space on Capitol Hill for his committee investigating ethics in government.

Mac's Intelligence Chief—The recent statement by Maj. Gen. Charles Willoughby, MacArthur's former intelligence chief in Korea, that he had warned Washington in advance of outbreak in Korea, is a far cry from what Willoughby told a congressional committee in Tokyo. In September of 1949, General Willoughby boasted to a group of visiting congressmen, led by M. G. Burnside of West Virginia and Charles Deane of North Carolina, that he didn't expect any war in Korea for at least two years. The attack by North Koreans came nine months later.

Does Congress Know?—Supreme Court Justice Robert Jackson took a sly dig at Congress the other day. In his opinion on the "fair trade" decision that led to the department-store price war, Jackson threw in this crack at the lawmakers: "To select casual statements from (congressional) floor debates—not always distinguished for candor or accuracy—as a basis for making up one's mind what law Congress intended to enact is to substitute oneself for the Congress. The Constitution, in requiring three readings of an act in each House before final enactment, intended, I take it, to make sure that Congress knew what was passing and passed what it wanted."

NEW PALTZ NEWS

New Paltz, June 23—The piano pupils of Mrs. Faye LeFevre entertained their parents and friends last week. The ABC Club met recently and the Rhythm Club assisted by the Musical Maids and Boys' Club presented their program June 9.

Mrs. Emmet Hyatt of Clintondale spent a few days last week at Lake Placid attending a meeting of registered nurses.

Central Hudson is preparing ground for its new site at Eltinge Corners.

Miss Clarendia Richards of Hopewell Junction with Miss Ruth Prately of Jamaica were guests of honor at a tea last Thursday afternoon in the Friends Church parlors in Clintondale. A talk was given on Jamaica and the missionary work being done there. Hand-made baskets, pocketbooks, and various articles made in Jamaica were on display, orders were taken on some. A certain percentage of the funds will go for missionary work there. Miss Prately was dressed in native costume and entertained with a couple of fairy tales in poetic form.

Mrs. William Wynkoop was hostess to the June 20 meeting of the local WCTU at her home on Church street. President Mrs. Raymond Hasbrouck presided. The opening prayer was given by Miss Lois Betz. The June meeting was held observing Flower Mission Day in honor of the founder, Mrs. Howard Van Keuren, local flower mission director, had charge of the program, which consisted of appropriate readings. Flowers were brought by members and many were contributed by friends, which were made into bouquets and given to help gladden the sick and shut-ins. Miss Betz led the devotions. The business session followed. Several matters were taken up and discussed. Communications were read, cards signed to be sent to cheer many who could not attend the meeting and the sick and shut-ins. Election of officers will take place at the next meeting to be held the third Wednesday in July at the Methodist Church. With Mrs. Polhemus in charge of the devotions and Mrs. Willard Jenkins presiding, the closing led by Miss Rosa, Mrs. Wynkoop and Mrs. Schoonmaker served refreshments, and a social time was enjoyed followed by the making of the bouquets which were delivered.

A six-day family life institute will be held at the local college from June 23 to June 30, inclusive. Parents, teachers, ministers, social workers and all others interested in enhancing family life are eligible to participate. Dr. Ruth M. Underhill, famous anthropologist and teacher, will lead the institute on the theme "The Family in a World Crisis."

Funeral services for John Ruger of New Paltz, who died suddenly June 14 while visiting his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Lucius Carey at Glens Falls, were held June 16 in the Friends Meeting House at Poughkeepsie.

Ruger had been a member for many years. He was the son of the late Wesley Ruger and Catherine Slater Ruger. He had four daughters by his first marriage with Dora Wood Ruger who died in Tillson September 5, 1908. They are: Mrs. Laurence Lindley (Amelia), of Media Pa.; Mrs. Frank Clearwater (Mayella), of New Paltz; Mrs. Earl W. (Esther), now deceased, died January 25, 1925; and Mrs. Carey. By his second marriage with Mrs. Rebecca Post DuBois Ruger he is survived by a stepdaughter, Mrs. Frank Alishevsky, the former Ethel DuBois, now of Yonkers, and a daughter, Mrs. Fred Grant (Lillian) of Trumansburg; two sons: Raymond of Richmond, Ind., and Allen of Woodbury, Pa. His wife died April 19, 1918. There also was another son by this marriage, Paul Jack Ruger of Fort Wayne, Ind., who was killed in battle in France in World War 2, August 13, 1944. In addition to these Mr. Ruger is survived by 20 grandchildren and 11 great-grandchildren. He had a granddaughter, Cpl. Esther Margaret Clearwater, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Clearwater of New Paltz, who was a War hero and died in World War 2, and met her death by an accident at Phoenix October 6, 1943. Mr. Ruger also leaves a sister, Mrs. Angelo Albano of Highland and many nieces and nephews. He had been a part time resident of New Paltz since 1914 and since retiring approximately six years ago he has spent his time visiting among his children.

The Rev. Richard Talbot, minister of the Tillson Meeting, conducted the funeral and burial services. Burial was in the Rosendale Plains Cemetery.

Mrs. Ethel DeHart was hostess at a surprise variety shower given in honor of Miss Edna Ceccini of Poughkeepsie, recently. A smorgasbord supper was served. Afterward the guest of honor was presented with many beautiful gifts. Among those attending were the Misses Bertha Will, Joyce Cox, Dorothy McDermott, Alice Kowalski, Betty Wetzell, Fran Ricci, Mrs. Augusta Cleary, Mrs. Fran Ramsey, Mrs. Phoebe Daniels, Mrs. A. Ceccini, Mrs. P. Wiedehammer, Mrs. J. Ruenes, Miss Irene Pigliacappe, Mrs. M. A. Prizmi, Mrs. M. Keating, Miss Mary Milligan, Mrs. Edward Dapp, Mrs. A. Knubel all of Poughkeepsie; Miss Betty Lou Carroll and Miss Betty Erne of New Paltz and Miss Cecelia Jasko of Jersey City. Miss Ceccini, who is secretary to the purchasing agent at IBM, will become the bride of Ross Winters of Poughkeepsie.

The League of Women Voters held its board meeting at the home of Mrs. Lorin D. Campbell recently. Mrs. John Jacobson, the new president presided. Mrs. Jacobson introduced Mrs. R. Pyle, chairman of Voters Service Committee. Mrs. Pyle succeeds Mrs. Campbell. Other committee chairmen, co-chairmen and members present were Mrs. Ferris Briggs, Mrs. Ralph Buchanan, Mrs. William Haggerty, Mrs. Raymond M. Hasbrouck, Mrs. Willard Hogan, Miss Laura Hopkins, Mrs. C. L. Ligon, Mrs. M. Howard Jacobs, Mrs. Rodney Jones, Miss Ailsa Reid, Mrs. Walter Rost, Mrs. Frank Slack and the hostess Mrs. Campbell. Mrs. Edward Jacobs and Mrs. Jacobson gave highlights from the area conference they attended in Albany June 4.

The Ulster Educators held their picnic Thursday afternoon at Algonquin Park near Newburgh. Faculties of all four schools attended from Highland, New Paltz, Milton and Marlborough.

Mr. and Mrs. William Hasbrouck and son, Larry, of Otego spent the week-end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Hasbrouck.

Mrs. Belle Briggs, Vienna, Va., is spending a month with her son, Ferris Briggs and family.

For the fourth consecutive summer the Woodstock String Quartet will present a series of six concerts in the local college. Beginning July 17, the quartet will appear on six consecutive Tuesday evenings at 8:30 o'clock in the Music Room of the Campus Elementary School.

Manager and founder of the group and noted cellist, Engelbert Roentgen, has announced the following membership in the quartet this season: Sidney Harth, first violin and leader; Teresa Testa, second violin; Carolyn Voight, viola; and Mr. Roentgen, cello. A number of distinguished guest artists have also been engaged for the summer. Tickets for the String Quartet series will go on sale early in July. Single admission tickets will be available at each concert.

Mrs. Howard Van Keuren and Mrs. Albert Myers of Tillson called on Mrs. Earl Stokes Wednesday morning to view Mrs. Stokes' beautiful flower garden.

Mrs. Jerome DePuy, Mrs. Cecil DePuy and Mrs. Clairissa Hogan went to New York Wednesday where they will spend a few days.

Officers elected for the 1951-52 term of the Reformed Church for the coming year at their picnic meeting held last Tuesday were: Mrs. Joseph Krajicek, Jr., president; Mrs. Merrill Archard, vice-president; Mrs. Richard Lent, secretary and Mrs. Charles Benton, treasurer. They will succeed Mrs. George Ackert, Mrs. John Mack and Mrs. Robert Kelly.

Mrs. Howard Van Keuren and Mrs. Rose Thomas, all of Kingston, were in this vicinity last Thursday and also attended the funeral of Walter Rhodes in Clintondale.

Dr. William J. Haggerty, president of the local college, made known this week that Dr. Kenneth E. Howe, chairman of the education division, has resigned his position as chairman of a consultative with the Institute of Educational Leadership mission to Japan. He will be working as a civilian in the civil information and education section of the general headquarters under the allied powers in Japan. He has been at New Paltz for three years.

Mrs. Bessie Clayton, New Paltz, was hostess for a meeting of the present and past officers of the Eastern Star Tuesday night at her home. The next meeting will be in September with Mrs. Olive Thompson, Mrs. LeVerne Short and Mrs. Harry Coutant, Sr., hostess. The date of Tuesday, August 14, was chosen for the annual picnic of the chapter at the home of Mrs. Warren Egea, New Paltz. Committee to assist Mrs. Egea will be Mrs. Lillian Sheeley, Mrs. Cecile Peterson, of New Paltz and Mrs. Ann Leiching. Final plans were made for the bazaar Saturday afternoon and evening at Masonic Temple grounds with Mrs. Olympia Cotline, general chairman. Among those present at Tuesday's meeting were Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Dubeau, Mrs. Stella Harp, Mrs. Elsie Place, Mrs. Eileen P. Peterson, Miss Frances Minard and Mrs. Parker of New Paltz.

James Locascio, of New Paltz High School, won second place honors in the district-wide judging contest of the Hudson Gas and Electric Corporation's lamp building. Earl McLane of Poughkeepsie High School was announced as the winner. In the contest were over 1,500 wood-working and industrial arts students, representing 34 high schools in the Mid-Hudson Valley who constructed lamps for the competition.

A TIME FOR ANGER

A racketeer who promotes and profits from the narcotics addiction of children has struck deeply into our society. He is condemned in the bitterest terms, but the rest of us are condemned, too. Somehow we have failed to give our children the protection they should have.

The voices of children helpless in the grip of the narcotics habit, heard in the New York investigation, form an indictment against the depravity of the narcotics peddlers. Addiction to dope does not come about by chance; it must be cultivated. The peddlers do the cultivating, for the sake of the extortionate profits of their trade. The damage done to the lives of their child victims is terrible; it can become irreparable. This means nothing to them.

It would not be enough to wipe out the organizations of degenerate criminals who put marijuana and heroin into the hands of children and teach them their use. The rottenness from which these evil ones came must be cleaned up. Slums, municipal corruption, and public toleration of crime and illegality are the roots of this malignant growth. One crime breeds another.

This is a time for anger, for cold and reasoned anger but for anger none the less. We may need stronger laws and better enforcement of them. But we also need the aroused awareness of every citizen, for every citizen is responsible for the conditions of his community.

With school vacations underway and children spending most of their time at home it would not be surprising if more mothers come to agree with those who feel that teachers are underpaid.

BLACK MARKET CURE

Some city councils and other legislative bodies have been considering laws to keep black markets in check, in case they should develop in the expected shortage of beef or in some other commodity scarcity. Presumably these would be laws providing specific penalties for black market operations, and perhaps providing for special enforcement agencies.

Such measures might help to keep black markets under cover. But there is one sure remedy for black markets, possibly the only remedy which can be really effective. This is for people to refuse to buy on the black market. If there are no customers, there will be no market.

There's nothing like a cold shower in the morning; in fact there's nothing but a cold one after the rest of the family takes all the hot ones.

The reason that these politicians hate Kohlberg is that they believe that he is responsible for Senator Joe McCarthy—which would be something for anyone to take on. Joe McCarthy and Kohlberg are friends and serve in the same causes. So are a great many other Americans. It will do no harm to bring it all into the open, not by sneering nor by ill-defined accusations, but by setting forth the virtue of these Americans who inhibit the State Department policy of aiding Communist China.

As a matter of fact, it is encouraging to see Americans put up the fight they have against Communist China. Perhaps had there been no Kohlbergs, Soviet Russia would, by now, be in Burma, Siam and Iran.

I know this man and have often wondered at his fanatical insistence in a tough fight. A merchant, he has devoted time, money and experience to the fight. He got into it by accident; that is, he believed that the Institute of Pacific Relations of which he had been a member and to which he had contributed, had misrepresented itself to him. He got sore.

The more he got into that fight, the more he recognized that the battle had to be broadened until it included an attack on all Communist activity, particularly right here in the United States.

He has proved to be an effective fighter and a competent leader in a good cause. Investigators of Kohlberg will have a tough time discovering any anti-American attitudes.

That Body of Yours

By James W. Barton, M.D.

BLOATING NOT ALWAYS DUE TO GAS

When bloating occurs, there is no question but that in most cases foods like cabbage, lettuce, cauliflower and other green vegetables are the cause. Unfortunately, salads made up of these foods are very commonly eaten and many individuals prefer to obtain these vegetables in a raw state rather than cooked. These individuals would sooner undergo the bloating and pressure than do without their raw vegetables and fruits.

Some months ago I recorded the findings of Dr. Walter Alvarez of the Mayo Clinic whose research work on digestion and constipation is known to most physicians. I quoted Dr. Alvarez as stating that all bloating is not caused by gas formation. As this statement will be a surprise to many I am recording again some findings about nongaseous bloating.

In Archives of Internal Medicine, Dr. Alvarez describes a syndrome (group of symptoms) consisting of pronounced bloating due to contraction or tightening of abdominal muscles and often to assuming a lordotic (bending backward) posture which forces the abdomen forward.

Commonly the swelling increases gradually during the afternoon and decreases at night without passage of gas. X-rays of a bloated abdomen never shows excess of gas and opening up of the abdomen by operation reveals no cause for the bloating.

In a series of 92 patients, 85 of whom were women and 7 men, almost all were nervous, unhappy, and easily upset emotionally. Many were relatives of insane persons or of persons with epilepsy, migraine or diabetes. Most patients had good digestion between and sometimes during attacks of bloating. Bloating often began after excitement, annoyance, fright or fatigue. Close examination by the physician and laboratory examinations failed to show any cause for these attacks of bloating.

The bloating disappeared and the abdomen became flat a few seconds after: (1) use of an anesthetic by inhalation or injection into the spine; (2) blocking of the splanchnic nerve (nerve controlling organs in lower part of chest and of the whole abdomen) with procaine; (3) onset of vomiting; (4) giving of morphine; (5) doubling up so as to relieve strain of bending backwards.

Most patients lost the bloated appearance when lying down, especially if thighs were bent on the abdomen.

Trying to keep mind and body relaxed is the treatment.

Elbow Room Only

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

Washington — The President jokingly admitted the other day that he had given daughter Margaret a fatherly briefing about European gigolos before she left the country. The admission was made in a chat with Harold Russell, national commander of Amvets, when Russell was commenting on the good-will aspects of Margaret's trip.

"She's a better ambassador than anyone we've got over there," the Amvets boss told Margaret's proud papa.

"I swell up like a pizen pup whenever I hear that," Truman beamed. "It's hard for me to realize that she's grown up. I still think of her as so high."

The President held out his hand about even with the top of his desk.

"In fact, I still call her 'baby' sometimes, but I warned her before she left that I didn't want any of those two-legged—"

Truman paused, decided against a stronger word.

"Guys over there calling her by that name."

Chinese War Lobby

If the Senate ever carries out its threat to probe the China lobby, it will unearth an attempt to organize the Chinatown's in 45 American cities with a view to putting the United States into a full-scale war with China.

It will also find that a foreign political party—the Kuomintang—is operating in this country under a system somewhat comparable to the German Bund.

The aim of the Kuomintang in this country is spelled out as follows: "To secure and maintain the interest of the Chinese people of the United States to aid and further the aims of the central executive committee of the Kuomintang."

Thus, the Kuomintang is the only political party in the United States, besides the Communists, whose first allegiance is to a foreign government. Furthermore, the Kuomintang is not only officially dedicated to bringing the United States into an all-out war with China, but as the first step, its American branches are working with the China lobby in bombarding Congress with telegrams and letters.

Significantly, loyal Chinese-

Americans have steered clear of the Kuomintang, just as they have the Communist. So far, the Kuomintang has succeeded in enrolling only 3,825 members in 45 cities—a mere handful of the total Chinese-American population.

Who's Who in Kuomintang

Kuomintang headquarters is located at 844 Stockton street in San Francisco's Chinatown. Its directors include Pei Chi Liu, ex-official of the Nationalist Ministry of Education; Fong Chee, former counselor to the Nationalists' Kwangtung provincial government, which would correspond to a state government in this country; and Yong Chang Yu, former specialist for the legislative Yuan, one of five controlling Yuans of the Nationalist government.

The most influential director up until his death recently was Ping Shun, who actually belonged to the Nationalist Legislature and attended sessions in China, while at the same time directing the Kuomintang in this country and maintaining an official residence in San Francisco.

Other Kuomintang directors in this country are importers, whose chief trade is with Formosa and whose business depends upon the Nationalist government. They include Hoo Shuck, Fong W. Doon, Fong Yue and Chin Dook Jong. Another director, Hung Lee Wong, is assistant manager of "The Young China," a pro-Kuomintang, Chinese-language newspaper published in San Francisco.

The Kuomintang in this country is also organized into five regions under the leadership of Chan Jack San, San Francisco; Louie Mon Ben, San Antonio, Tex.; Ng Shi Jam, Portland, Ore.; Yee Jan Tong, New York city; and Shou Kwok Jing, Chicago.

To help finance its activities, the Kuomintang owns several apartment houses and operates the Chien-Kuo (Chinese) Language School in San Francisco.

Capital News Capsules

Taxpayers Pay Again—The two Colorado senators—Johnson, a Democrat, and Millikin, a Republican—have set up a special office on Capitol Hill to solicit war contracts for Colorado firms. The office is run by Ed Keating, who was put on Johnson's payroll, while Millikin contributed a secretary from his Senate payroll. Actually, however, it is the taxpayers who pay all the bill, so that Colorado companies can get favored treatment. For the taxpayers pay the salaries of this office and also pay for the office space—all to help Colorado. If every senator did this for his state, the Senate building would be swamped. Meanwhile, Senator Douglas of Illinois can't find office space on Capitol Hill for his committee investigating ethics in government.

Mac's Intelligence Chief—The recent statement by Maj. Gen. Charles Willoughby, MacArthur's former intelligence chief in Korea, that he had warned Washington in advance of outbreak in Korea, is a far cry from what Willoughby told a congressional committee in Tokyo. In September of 1949, General Willoughby boasted to a group of visiting congressmen, led by M. G. Burnside of West Virginia and Charles Deane of North Carolina, that he didn't expect any war in Korea for at least two years. The attack by North Koreans came nine months later.

Does Congress Know?—Supreme Court Justice Robert Jackson took a sly dig at Congress the other day. In his opinion on the "fair trade" decision that led to the department-store price war, Jackson threw in this crack at the lawmakers: "To select casual statements from (congressional) floor debates—not always distinguished for candor or accuracy—as a basis for making up our minds what law Congress intended to enact is to substitute ourselves for the Congress. The Constitution, in requiring three readings of an act in each House before final enactment, intended, I take it, to make sure that Congress knew what was passing and passed what it wanted."

Raw Oil and Turpentine

A nice finish for a knotty pine paneled wall in a basement recreation room can be achieved by several liberal applications of a half-and-half mixture of raw linseed oil and turpentine. One hour after each application wipe off the excess oil on the surface. Repeat the application after 24 hours, and give a third if necessary.

Hints on Planning
Bathroom Fixtures

Don't have a bathtub installed under a window.

The bathroom should be as large as the budget will permit.

The bathroom door should swing in with the lavatory or bathtub visible when the door is open.

Provide plenty of space for linen storage in the bathroom. These are a few of many helpful hints on the planning of bathrooms and powder rooms offered in a new booklet published by the Plumbing and Heating Industries Bureau, 35 East Wacker Drive, Chicago 1, Ill. The price of the booklet is 10 cents.

Unlike furniture which can easily be re-arranged, fixtures in the bathroom or powder room, once installed, become a permanent part of the structure of the house and can be moved only at considerable expense.

For this reason, the bureau points out, advance planning of bathrooms and powder rooms, whether in new construction or modernization, will save money and time and will enhance the convenience and livability of the house.

Thirty-four plans for bathrooms and powder rooms are shown in the booklet. The volume is unique in that it is the only booklet ever published devoted exclusively to the planning and arrangement of bathrooms and powder rooms.

Broken Tile Fixtures
Replaced by Chrome

Those broken towel bars and other bathroom accessories made of tile and installed when the bathroom walls were tiled can easily be replaced with handsome, sturdy chrome fixtures.

Where the accessories have been broken, the new chrome towel racks, grab rails or paper holders may easily be installed. One manufacturer provides a patented concealed fastener for imbedding in tile or glass.

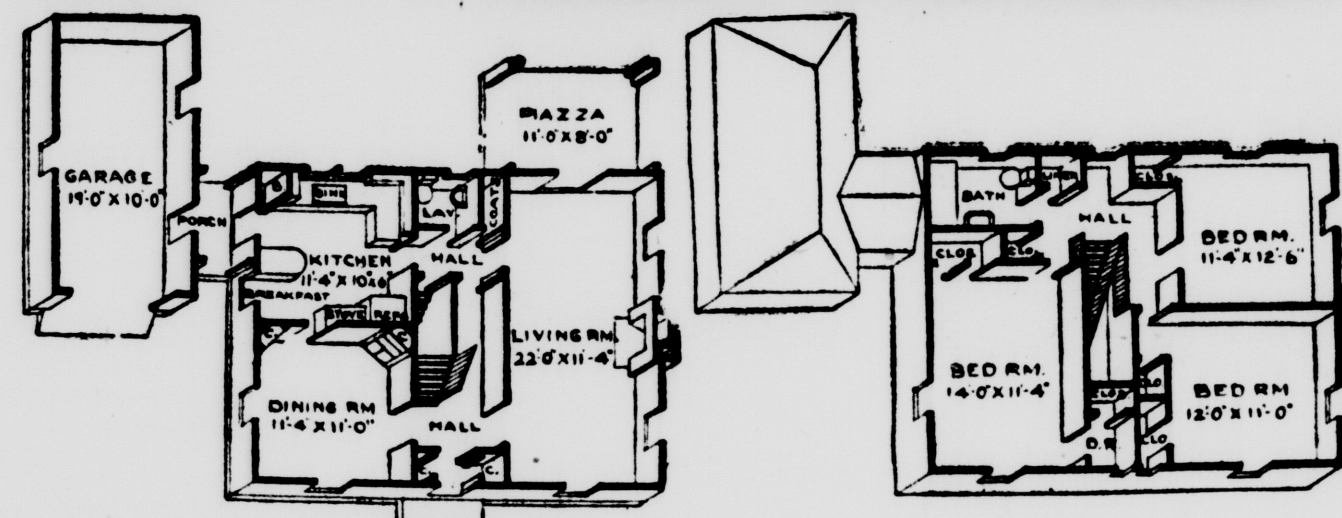

When ordering new chrome accessories for replacing imbedded tile pieces, the home owner should specify that he wants recessed accessories which are provided with screw holes for wood or plaster installations.

THE PRINCETONA House of Charm, Simplicity

Rooms Six
Bedrooms Three
Closets Eleven
Cubage - House . . . 18,500
Garage 3,000
Dimensions 31' x 23'

Contrasting with the Colonial style exterior, the modern interior is designed for comfortable and gracious living. Its six rooms, including a large living room, a dining room, the combination kitchen-breakfast nook and three bedrooms, are arranged for convenience and comfort. Eleven closets, a dressing room, built-in china closets, a lavette on the first floor and a bathroom on the second floor complete this picture of a well-planned modern home.

Measuring 31' x 23', "The Princeton" has a cubic footage of 18,500 feet. The garage is 19' x 10' and has a cubage of 3,000 feet. A 60' lot would be required.

Clapboard Exterior
A light shade of gray with white trim would make a most attractive and suitable finish for the clapboarded exterior. Black shutters at the windows combine with a decorative exterior style exterior, the modern interior with its decorative door jamb and cap should also be painted white; so should the window caps. Using white beneath the front windows on first floor will give added contrast to the gray side walls. The latticed windows on the second floor also contribute to the handsome exterior appearance of the house.

Even the garage with its sloped roof, following the lines of the house roof, is in perfect harmony with the over-all architecture of the house. There are windows on each side of the 19' x 10' garage. A door, opening onto the porch or breezeway, provides easy access to the kitchen through a side door.

Two coat closets, one at either side of the front door, are conveniently placed for hanging guests' wraps as well as for storing stormy weather apparel.

The entry hall itself receives light through the panes in the front door. An archway at the left opens into the dining room; the archway at the right leads to the living room.

Open Stairway
Opposite the front door are the open stairs leading to the second floor. Beside these stairs is the hallway that connects with the rooms in the back of the house. A door at the end of the hall, before the turn, shuts off the back part of the house which contains another coat closet, the lavette, the door to the cellar stairs and the kitchen.

Also off the hall is another doorway to the spacious living room which is 22' x 11'4". Flanked by windows, the big fireplace is centered in the outside wall. There is another window in the front wall. French doors in the back wall open on the 11' x 8' piazza that overlooks the back garden.

Going from the living room into the back arm of the U-shaped hall you find a coat closet and a lavette on the right. A swinging door at the very end of the hall opens into 11'4" x 10'6" kitchen. On the left is the refrigerator, with the stove placed next to it.

To the right of the hall door is the L-shaped working counter complete with overhead cupboards and extending as far as the broom closet. In the middle of the counter, beneath double windows, is the location for the sink. Between the kitchen door and the side window is a rounded counter that can be used as a breakfast bar.

Built-in China Closets

Built-in china closets are located in the two back corners of the dining room. A side and front window provide light and ventilation for this room which measures 11'4" x 11'.

The open stairway gives an appearance of spaciousness to the second floor. A window at the head of the stairs lights the L-shaped hall that connects the four rooms. Between the windows and the bathroom is a large linen closet; another closet is located between the bathroom and the door to the master bedroom.

Measuring 14' x 11'4", the bathroom has a large closet, with double doors, in the back wall and a closet, opening off the dressing room, at the front behind the stair wall. One of the small latticed windows lights the dressing room while the second lights the closet in the other front bedroom.

The back bedroom, at the other side of the house, is 11'4" x 12'6". The front bedroom which measures 12' x 11', has two closets in the inside wall. Each bedroom has two windows and ample wall space for arranging heavy furniture pieces.

In the full cellar the heating plant should be located beneath the living room; the laundry would be placed beneath the lavette. You can partition off the rest of the cellar to suit your needs.

Plans Available

Complete plans and specifications for "The Princeton," and other houses in this series, are available at moderate cost. To ascertain the exact price of these documents, write to the Home Building Editor, Dept. 24, Kingston Daily Freeman, and enclose a self-addressed envelope bearing a three-cent stamp. At least one week should be allowed for a reply.

Problem of Larger Car

Today's automobiles are too large for many prewar garages, since the cars approach 20 feet in length and seven feet in width. The difficulty can be overcome by building a low bay about four feet deep and five feet across the rear of the garage so that the car's hood can extend into this space.

Kerhonkson

Kerhonkson, June 23—Mrs. Irving Colville entertained her pinocle club last week.

Mrs. Jennie Burgher was given a surprise birthday party last week by several friends.

Mrs. Irving West entertained her pupils, parents and friends at two recitals at her home Sunday. Rosemary Joyce underwent an operation last Friday at the Benedictine Hospital. She returned home Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Pomeroy and family of Neversink spent last week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Wright.

Mr. and Mrs. Grover Smith and Mrs. James R. Doyle were Sunday night supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. Cleveland Van Aken in Poughkeepsie.

Dr. and Mrs. Jansen Hornbeck and son of New York spent Saturday night with Mr. and Mrs. Irving West.

Mr. and Mrs. Helfren and family spent the week-end with relatives in New Jersey.

Mr. and Mrs. Roland Green and daughters of California spent Sunday with Mr. Green's father, Increase Green. Mr. and Mrs. Green and daughter left Wednesday for California.

Miss Rachel West has returned home for the summer from Rochester University. Miss West has employment at the telephone office in Ellenville during the summer months.

Mr. and Mrs. Percy Booth and son, Franklin, spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. James Snyder in Yonkers.

Pupils of the seventh and eighth grades enjoyed a trip to Bear Mountain Park Saturday.

Ruth, Elaine and Billy Amann are patients at the Ellenville Hospital.

The Home Bureau unit held a covered dish supper at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Decker recently. Mrs. S. Abrahams was co-hostess. Thirty members were present. A bouquet was presented to Mrs. Oscar Van Eiten for her nine years of service as treasurer. Dr. Holloway gave a talk on first aid.

The marriage of Miss Karen Clitte of Hershey, Pa., to Dr. Edwin Green, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Green, Sr., of Harrisburg, Pa., was solemnized June 16 at the Presbyterian Church, Hershey, Pa. A reception followed at the Country Club, Mr. Green is a grandson of Mrs. M. E. Green of this village who attended the wedding with Mr. and Mrs. Irving West.

Wide, shallow closets are the preference, which is fortunate, because this type more easily can be built on a corridor wall, or in disused space at the end of a hall.

In building storage space, utilize stock doors wherever possible, or make them in sizes to suit your needs, or 5-ply, ¾-inch plywood. Stock-size screens can be used for better ventilation, if appearance is not so much a criterion.

The closets themselves can be built of plywood, too, or lined with it, and in such construction it is easier to nail shelves at any desired heights. It is wise to build in a false floor at a slight elevation to facilitate cleaning the closet itself. Hold side jams to a minimum for easy access to the ends of the closet. Double doors are best, hung separately.

One architect who has been especially successful in the residential field says, "Closets will be designed deeper than 16 inches only over my dead body." Experience has shown that they are inconvenient and become cluttered.

If you happen to be one who thinks that such matters as storage closet convenience do not loom high in the thoughts of home-makers, consider the fact that not so long ago, in a little town in Texas, more than 200 women visited a home in one day to inspect its ingeniously planned cleaning closet.

Many New Homes
Have More Storage
Space in Bathroom

More storage space in the bathroom is a dream of many home-makers which is being incorporated into modern building plans.

One new trend is the use of cabinets similar to the kitchen variety. Often provision is made for two medicine cabinets. Many builders are enclosing the space under the lavatory and utilizing it for storage. This improves the appearance of the bathroom by concealing plumbing connections.

Bathroom walls must stand up under much more severe conditions than those of other rooms, so the materials should be chosen with care.

A built-in ventilation fan and a built-in electric auxiliary heating unit will be welcome additions to this new bathroom.

Hardwood Floors
Can Be Restored

If you are considering the purchase of an old home with the intention of modernizing it, be sure to give particular attention to the floors, experts advise.

The condition of the floors has a great deal to do with the interior appearance of a house, it is pointed out. Shabby flooring, therefore, should be high on the list for renovation.

If the floors of an old home are hardwood, the new owner can consider himself fortunate. For such floors easily can be restored to their original beauty by sanding and refinishing.

In some cases, however, new floors may be desirable. New flooring can be nailed directly to existing wood floors. Usually it is best to lay it at right angles to the old flooring. An experienced floor mechanic can do the job quickly.

Jacoby on CanastaDISCARD DEPENDS ON HAND

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

In recent articles we have been discussing the choice of your first discard. There are times when you should discard from strength (three or more of a kind) and times when you should discard from weakness (no more cards to match the discard). Your choice should depend mostly on the nature of your hand.

Sometimes you are dealt a clear cut offensive hand; sometimes a clear cut defensive hand. Most of the time you are dealt a hand that isn't much of anything, and you must wait for the hand to take on a real character during the early part of the play.

An obvious offensive hand is one that gives you an excellent chance to win the discard pile very quickly. Naturally you must have the count. Equally naturally, you must have several different pairs.

When the count is only 30 points, the ideal hand is five pairs and a joker. Low pairs are better than high pairs because low cards are usually discarded more freely than high cards.

You will seldom get the perfect hand, but you don't have to wait for perfection. Four pairs plus the count is a very fine hand, and even three pairs plus the count is a good offensive combination.

With any such hand you should begin a campaign to win the discard pile. Keep your pairs and try to accumulate new pairs. It may be necessary to discard from three of a kind when you have such a hand (provided that this discard does not give up the count).

Such a discard from strength serves three purposes. It may induce the player at your right to match the discard—in which case you will take the pack at once. It makes room in your hand for new pairs. Finally, it is probably the safest discard you can make. The next player is less likely to have a matching pair when you discard from three of a kind than when you discard a singleton.

A defensive hand is one that offers a good play for a fast out and very little play for winning the discard pile. For example, you might hold four cards of one kind, three cards of another kind, and one or two wild cards.

Such a hand will produce a canasta very quickly, if your partner can add to either meld. It is only much good for winning the pack since you have only two pairs. The enemy is unlikely to throw a card that you can pick up.

With such a hand, you discard odd cards and keep building up your hand. When possible you will make the initial meld, especially if you can do so without having to use your wild cards.

Mr. Jacoby is unable to answer individual questions on Canasta from readers. However, he will include the most frequently asked questions in his column.

Fluorescent Lighting

Fluorescent lighting has captivated the imagination among home owners. Fixtures for this type of lighting cost more, but the operation is lower than for incandescent lights. However, the color effect of fluorescent lights must be considered. Sometimes they give the complexion a sallow green cast. One way to avoid this is to use fluorescent tubes in cove lighting, where the indirect rays blend with the colors of the decoration.

Spring Is Time to Clean

Spring means, among other things, a time to check gutters and leaders. Accumulated leaves and birds' nests are among the most common causes of overflow and clogged down spouts. Wire basketlike strainers should cap the top opening of the latter.

Raw Oil and Turpentine

A nice finish for a knotty pine paneled wall in a basement recreation room can be achieved by several liberal applications of a half-and-half mixture of raw linseed oil and turpentine. One hour after each application wipe off the excess oil on the surface. Repeat the application after 24 hours, and give a third if necessary.

New Booklet Gives
Hints on Planning
Bathroom Fixtures

Don't have a bathtub installed under a window.

The bathroom should be as large as the budget will permit.

The bathroom door should swing in with the lavatory or bathtub visible when the door is open.

Provide plenty of space for linen storage in the bathroom.

These are a few of many helpful hints on the planning of bathrooms and powder rooms offered in a new booklet published by the Plumbing and Heating Industries Bureau, 35 East Wacker Drive, Chicago 1, Ill. The price of the booklet is 10 cents.

Unlike furniture which can easily be re-arranged, fixtures in the bathroom or powder room, once installed, become a permanent part of the structure of the house and can be moved only at considerable expense.

For this reason, the bureau points out, advance planning of bathrooms and powder rooms, whether in new construction or modernization, will save money and time and will enhance the convenience and livability of the house.

Broken Tile Fixtures
Replaced by Chrome

Those broken towel bars and other bathroom accessories made of tile and installed when the bathroom walls were tiled can easily be replaced with handsome, sturdy chrome fixtures.

Where the accessories have been broken, the new chrome towel racks, grab rails or paper holders may easily be installed. One manufacturer provides a patented concealed fastener for imbedding in tile or glass.

When ordering new chrome accessories for replacing imbedded tile pieces, the home owner should specify that he wants recess accessories which are provided with screw holes for wood or plaster installations.

THE PRINCETON

A House of
Charm, Simplicity

Rooms Six
Bedrooms Eleven
Cubage - House 18,500
Garage 3,000

Dimensions 31' x 23'

Contrasting with the Colonial style exterior, the modern interior is designed for comfortable and gracious living. Its six rooms, including a large living room, a dining room, the combination kitchen-breakfast nook and three bedrooms, are arranged for convenience and comfort. Eleven closets, a dressing room, built-in china closets, a lavette on the first floor and a bathroom on the second floor complete this picture of a well-planned modern home.

Measuring 31' x 23', "The Princeton" has a cubic footage of 18,500 feet. The garage is 19' x 10' and has a cubage of 3,000 feet. A 60' lot would be required.

Clapboard Exterior
A light shade of gray with white trim would make a most attractive and suitable finish for the clapboarded exterior. Black shutters at the windows would add a delightful decorative style exterior, the modern interior with its decorative door jamb and cap should also be painted white; so should the window caps. Using white beneath the front windows on first floor will give added contrast to the gray siding. The latticed windows on the second floor also contribute to the handsome exterior appearance of the house.

Even the garage with its sloped roof, following the lines of the house roof, is in perfect harmony with the over-all architecture of the house. There are windows on each side of the 19' x 10' garage. A door, opening onto the porch or breezeway, provides easy access to the kitchen through a side door.

Two coat closets, one at either side of the front door, are conveniently placed for hanging guests' wraps as well as for storing stormy weather apparel. The entry hall itself receives light through the panes in the front door. An archway at the left opens into the dining room; the archway at the right leads to the living room.

Open Stairway
Opposite the front door are the open stairs leading to the second floor. Beside the stairs is the hallway that connects with the rooms in the back of the house. A door at the end of the hall, before the turn, shuts off the back part of the house which contains another coat closet, the lavette, the door to the cellar stairs and the kitchen.

Also off the hall is another

Closets for Storage Vital

Whether you mean to build this year or not, there are lessons to be learned from the example of other home builders that will help in simplifying the operation of any household.

Take storage closets, for example. Their efficiency or inadequacy can make a vast difference in the success with which a house is kept running smoothly yet rarely are they given the attention they should have in their planning and construction.

Right storage space, nevertheless, can be obtained in even the most inconveniently laid-out old houses. Getting it is a matter of "sizing up" one's surroundings with the one point in mind, and then calling in a handyman or doing by oneself, the minor carpentry that may be necessary.

Wide, shallow closets are the preference, which is fortunate, because this type more easily can be built on a corridor wall, or in disused space at the end of a hall.

In building storage space, utilize stock doors wherever possible, or make them in sizes to suit your needs, or 5-ply, ¾-inch plywood. Stock-size screens can be used for better ventilation, if appearance is not so much a criterion.

The closets themselves can be built of plywood, too, or lined with it, and in such construction it is easier to nail shelves at any desired heights. It is wise to build in a false floor at a slight elevation to facilitate cleaning the closet itself. Hold side jams to a minimum for easy access to the ends of the closet. Double doors are best, hung separately.

One architect who has been especially successful in the residential field says, "Closets will be designed deeper than 16 inches only over my dead body." Experience has shown that they are inconvenient and become cluttered.

We all like everything that suggests a circus this time of year—except when mosquitoes start going bareback riding.

Now is when sonny goes swimming without permission—and the leather slipper is felt.

It's too bad we can't put a few lumps of ice in the fireplace and keep cool.

That isn't what I meant, dear, when I told you to give all the bones to the new dog!

The Russians will start a war when they feel they are ready and not before, says General Clay, to the U. S. Senate; but "if we move rapidly and collectively, with odds so heavily in their favor as to assure success," and that is one great reason for the preparedness drive throughout the democracies.

At Harvard two students assigned to a room together started to get acquainted.
First—My name's Alexander the Great.

Second—That's funny, mine is Charlemagne. Oddly enough, they were both lying.

See where some professor thinks he has invented a machine to detect when a man is lying. That machine was constructed years ago from one of Adams ribs.

Druggist—What sort of toothbrush do you want?
Customer—Lemme have a big one, there's thirty fellows in our fraternity.

Discretion of speech is more than eloquence; and to speak agreeably to him with whom we deal is more than to speak in good words and in good order.

Be brief politely; be aggressive tactfully; be emphatic pleasantly; be positive diplomatically; be right graciously; be optimistic knowingly.

Another sign that the world is all askew: Prices of furs, usually lower at this time of year, are said to be going up 20 per cent.

Waiter—Haven't you forgotten something, sir?

Professor—Why, I thought I gave you the customary tip.

Waiter—You did, sir, but you forgot to eat.

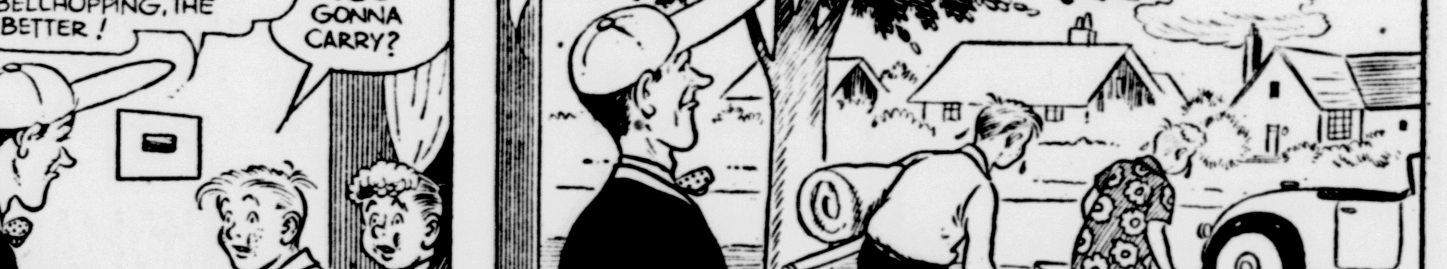

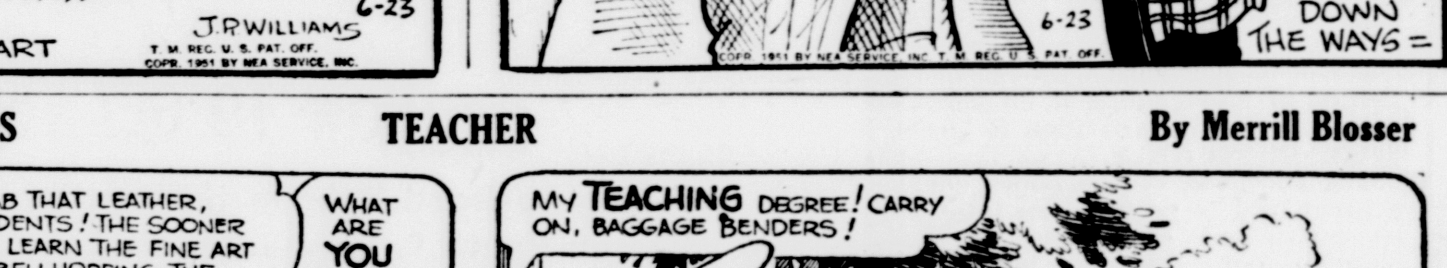

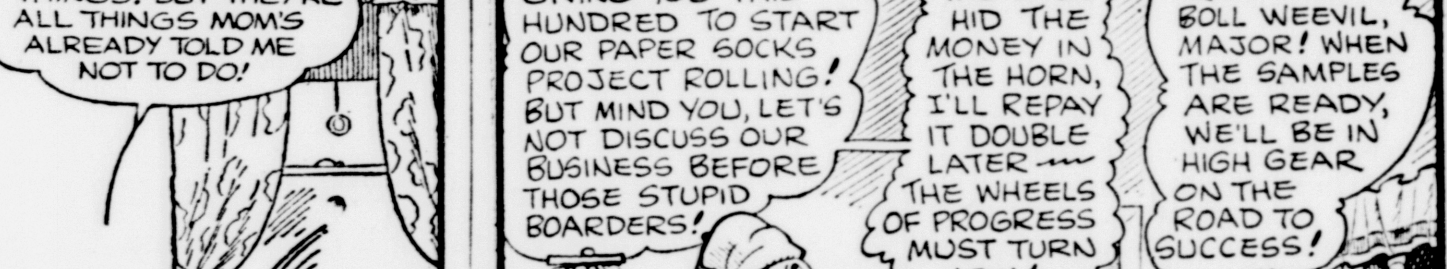

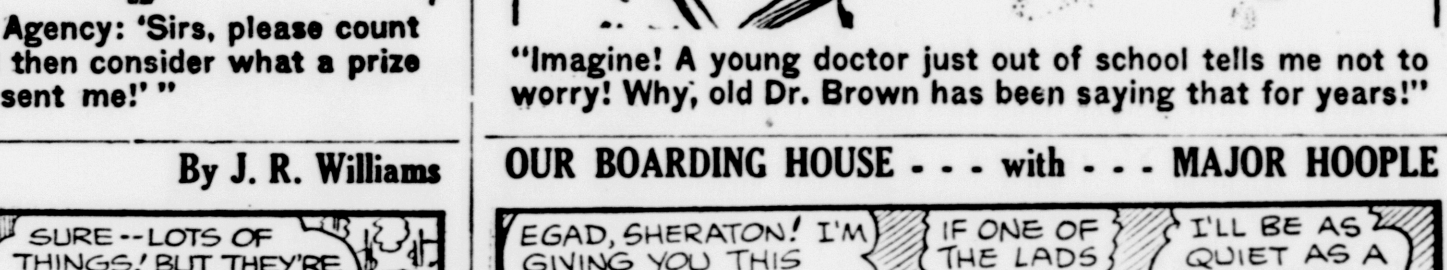

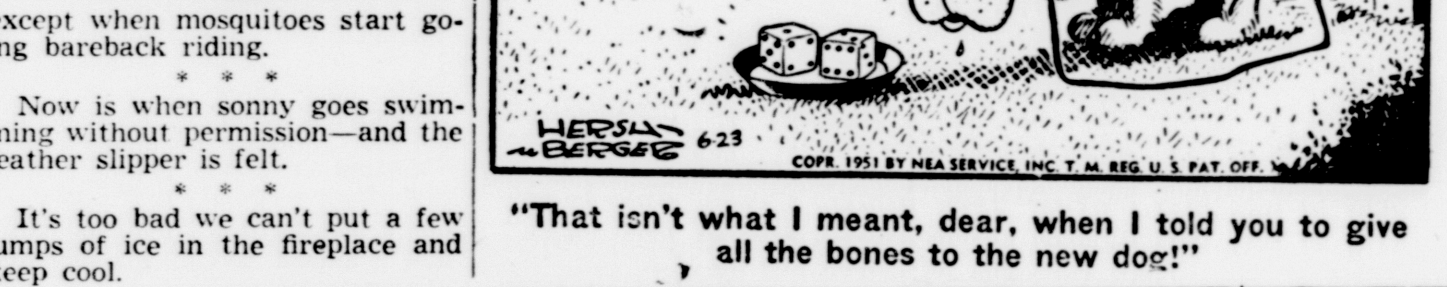

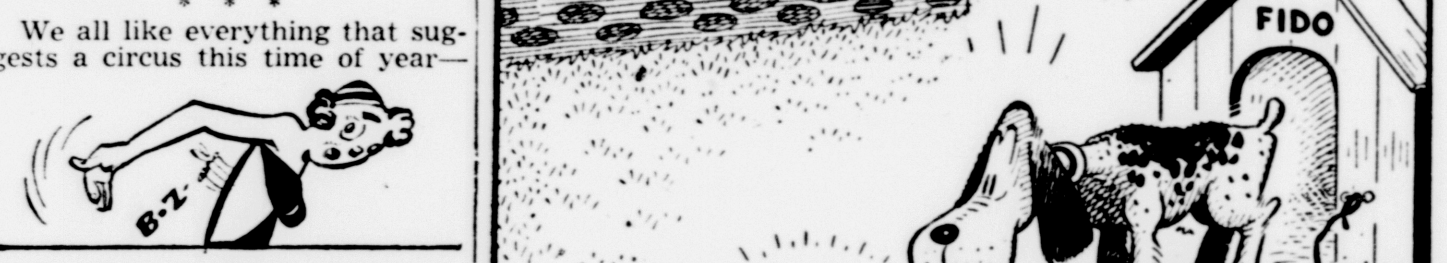

Can you remember when we thought the government was extravagant for sending out free garden seeds?—Grit.

Record Entry Heading Parade For KPBA Regatta Cancelled

Rain washed out the scheduled Little League parade and formal opening of Kingston's Little League today.

President Bob Umpleby of the Kingston Athletic Association, announced the cancellation at noon today and said the Little League would launch its schedule Monday evening at St. Mary's Field.

There will be no parade Monday, Umpleby said, but brief pre-game ceremonies are planned at the field.

Starting with Monday's game, the Little League will feature a six-inning contest four times weekly—Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday—at St. Mary's Field.

The schedule of events and prize list for the annual children's "50" Club was announced today.

The track events and other features are open to boys and girls and held in conjunction with the Department of Recreation.

The order of events: 40-yard dash, 50-yard dash, 60-yard dash, 70-yard dash, 80-yard dash, 90-yard dash, 100-yard dash, 110-yard dash, 120-yard dash, 130-yard dash, 140-yard dash, 150-yard dash, Record Entry Heading Parade For KPBA Regatta Cancelled

Sports of the Day

(IN BRIEF)
(By The Associated Press)

Entries for the tenth annual Kingston Power Boat Association's tenth annual regatta on July 8 are arriving in such volume that a new all-time record is assured, Vern Radel, public relations director of the KPBA, said today.

There will be no parade
Monday, Umpleby said, but brief pre-game ceremonies are planned at the field.

Starting with Monday's game, the Little League will feature a six-inning contest
four times weekly—Monday,
Tuesday, Thursday and Friday
—at St. Mary's Field.

Two of the Border League clubs,
Geneva and Cornwall, are dropping out of the race, said President Ward said. Under a proposed plan, he said, the remaining clubs would replace any Canadian-American League teams that might quit, or the combined circuit might be increased to eight teams.

Directors of both leagues are scheduled to meet Monday in Utica to discuss the proposal.

The folding of the Geneva and Cornwall franchises will put some attractive players on the open market and general manager
Addison Jones is expected to bid for several men.

Rome pounced on Charlie Ayers for four runs in the first inning last night, although only one of the tallies was earned. The young right hander tightened up quickly and retired the next eight batters in succession and pitched hitless ball the rest of the way.

Meanwhile, the Colonials left seven runners stranded against Ted Linskey, the Rome ace, in four innings. With two out in the first, Joe Kern singled sharply to center and moved to third on Lou Kramberg's double to right center. Allen grounded to short for the final out.

Kern and Kramberg reached base on a walk and single again with two out in the third and this time Allen was a strikeout victim.

Manager Buck Etchison and Forrest Samson, the cleanup hitter, garnered the Rome hits in the first inning.

Ronnie Estrang was on second base with one out as the result of a walk and wild pitch, when the storm broke. It came without warning and the 150 spectators scrambled for shelter.

When the shower showed signs of letting up, Manager Etchison stalked on the field demanding that the game be postponed. The game appeared in pretty good shape, except at the vital spots—home plate and the pitcher's mound. Umpires D'Ambrosio and Patrick made an official inspection and called the contest shortly after 10 o'clock.

The Rome series concludes with a single engagement tonight at 8:30, with the league-leading Pittsfield Electric moving in for a Sunday, two-night doubleheader starting at 6:30 p. m.

Brownie Wojcik, of Ellenville, who has been working out with the Colonials for several days, got a chance to crash the lineup last night when Big Sam Piacentino ran into trouble returning from New York. The newcomer went hitless in two trips.

Lou Kramberg was the young man really hurt by the cancellation. He was "2 for 2" with a single and double, both well maced shots, when the rains came.

Meanwhile, Pittsfield increased its lead in the Can-Am to one full game by trouncing Amsterdam, 15 to 7, in Pittsburgh.

The scheduled Oneonta-Gloversville doubleheader was rained out.
At Pittsfield, Bill Pope starred in the Electric's 15-hit attack. He blasted two home runs, one with the bases loaded and accounted for seven runs. Jack Seltenreich also homered for Pittsfield. His came with two aboard in the fifth inning.

Bob Jefferies, who replaced Lou Palmsiano in the fourth inning, was the winner. Palmsiano, regular centerfielder since the season opened, was making his first start on the mound in an effort to relieve the pressure on the Pittsfield staff.

Aircraft plays
Aircraft's baseball club will meet the Port Ewen A.C. in Port Ewen on Sunday. Bob Beaumont, former K.H.S. baseball and basketball player, now in the Air Force, will be in town to pitch the game. Clarence Gregory will catch. The Aircraft nine has openings for road games on July 22 and July 29.

Santiago, Chile—Sandy Saddler,
131, New York, knocked out
Mario Salinas, 138, Santiago, 5
(non-title).

Just relax and let the club do the work.
NEXT: Putting is half the game, says Jim Ferrier.

Stock car races and aerial fireworks will be featured at the Rhinebeck Speedway tonight.
Jocko Magliacomo of Poughkeepsie, leader in the circuit point standings, heads a star-studded field.

As the backswing is started on wood shots, your body turns naturally with your arms and the left knee bending slightly.

About halfway back, your wrists start to cock and at the top of the swing the club should be over your shoulders, just about parallel with the ground. Only practice can give you the "feel"
when you have reached the top of your backswing.

Never hurry that swing!
Take your time on the back-swing, pause when you reach the top. Start the downswing smoothly and unhurriedly.

Some golfers think that if you don't hurry the downswing you will lose power in the stroke. This is not true. Speed and timing produce distance and most of the speed of the clubhead is generated when it is only three to three-and-a-half feet from the ball. This is the point at which you begin to unleash the power in your wrists.

On the downswing and follow through the weight shifts entirely to the left foot, but at the moment of impact the weight is as evenly distributed as when addressing the ball.

The hands, too, return to the same position they had at the address. The ball that is only position for the hands if the club face is to meet the ball squarely.
Always keep your head behind the ball. This will cure many of your faults of trying to force the ball by pulling your body or hands in front of the clubhead.

Girl Found Dead

New York, June 23 (AP)—A seven-year-old girl was found dead last night in the back yard of her Queens home, her body hanging from a tree-swing rope twisted about her neck. The young victim was Mary Ann Adrian of 48-34 90th street, Elmhurst, Queens. The girl's father, Steven, has a stationery store at the same address. The rope swing, which hung between two trees, had no seat, police said. They theorized that the child climbed one of the trees, twisted the rope about her and then lost her balance.

"You had a lot of nerve bidding six spades," North said to East after today's hand had been played and the smoke had cleared away. "You couldn't make six spades, you know."

East just nodded amiably. He knew perfectly well that six spades would have been set. He suspected as much when he bid six spades—but he went ahead and bid the slam anyway.

The reason was very simple. The bidding of South and North made it perfectly plain that they were determined to play the hand at hearts. East therefore made it as expensive as possible by pushing them to seven hearts.

South knew that he couldn't lose much at seven hearts. If North had a high diamond or two, besides the high hearts already indicated, the sacrifice might turn out to be very cheap. The opponents would score over 1600 points if they made six spades, and a sacrifice bid of seven hearts was a good insurance policy against such a disaster.

Was South foolish for bidding seven hearts against a slam that couldn't actually be made? He felt a bit sorry when the hand was over, but he didn't feel foolish.

He thought that the opponents had at least an even chance to make their slam. If good opponents bid ten hands in that way it was reasonable to assume that they could make five of the ten slams.

If South passed all ten slams, scoring about 1600 points on five hands and losing 100 points on the other five hands, for a net score of about 7500 points. If South bid seven hearts against each slam he would lose a maximum of 500 points per hand. In ten hands he would be 2500 points better off.

This argument doesn't alter the fact that East made a fine stab at six spades. He knew exactly what would go through South's mind, and he deliberately gave South the chance to make the obvious sacrifice bid.

Cleared of Charges

New York, June 23 (AP)—Two narcotics squad policemen, Robert C. Grope and Symont Koziak, have been cleared of charges that they accepted bribes from an accused narcotics peddler. The charges were dismissed against the two men yesterday, after a four-day departmental trial. At the same time their accuser, Sidney Ross, a tailor, was given a three-year prison sentence by Judge Samuel H. Kaufman in federal court. Ross had pleaded guilty to a charge of conspiring to distribute narcotics.

Questions — Answers

Q—Do any animals other than dogs suffer distemper?
A—Distemper, best known in dogs, is a problem to fur ranchers raising fox and mink.

Q—What type of bird is the cahow?
A—Several of these mysterious ocean birds extinct since 1625, have been recently discovered in Bermuda where they were supposed to have been wiped out by a famine. One of the most distinctive traits of this pigeon-sized bird is its homing instinct. It can find its way back to its nest in tiny crevices at night after flying perhaps 125 miles or more out to sea after food.

final cost of a proposed air force academy would be around $148,000,000. The estimate was contained in a letter to Chairman Vinson (D-Ga.) of the House Armed Services Committee. Vinson made it public yesterday in introducing an administration bill to establish an air force school at a site yet to be selected. Vinson's bill provided only $20,000,000 for the initial outlay.

Subpoena for Warren

Miami, Fla., June 23 (AP)—Florida's Governor Fuller Warren will get a subpoena, probably Tuesday, to appear before the Senate Crime Investigating Committee in Washington July 9. The subpoena, first issued by the Senate crime probes for a state's chief executive, was announced at the end of a two-day hearing in Miami yesterday. Spectators cheered Senator Herbert O'Connor (D-Md.) chairman of the committee, made the announcement and handed the subpoena to Deputy U. S. Marshal Jack F. Peoples. Warren, resting at Ormond Beach, had no comment.

Reported as Leaders

Manila, June 23 (AP)—A Philippines army report today said three Americans and a Chinese were believed to be the leaders of a well-armed band of 100 Communist Hukos on Bicol peninsula southeast of Manila. It is generally known that possibly a dozen Americans, some of them deserters from U. S. military forces, have been in the hills with the Hukos.

Dr. Gannon Dies; Retired Since 1946

Dr. Clarence L. Gannon, who practiced medicine for 30 years from his office on Green street, died Friday afternoon at his residence on the West Hurley-Woodstock road where he had resided since his retirement from the active practice of medicine in October, 1946.

Dr. Gannon, who specialized in urology, was born in Brooklyn and was graduated from Maryland College of Medicine in 1916. He later opened an office in Glasco and a few years later moved to Kingston.

A veteran of World War I, Dr. Gannon enlisted in 1917 in the Medical Corps of the U. S. Army as a first lieutenant. He served two years at Camp Greenleaf, Ga., and received his honorable discharge January 23, 1919.

Dr. Gannon, who served 10 years as secretary of the Ulster County Medical Society, also was a member of the American Medical Society, the Ulster County Medical Society and was past president of the organization. He also served about 15 years as health officer of the Town of Ulster.

He served as medical consultant of the Ulster County Welfare Department and was associated with the Benedictine and Kingston Hospitals and served on both staffs. Dr. Gannon also was a member of the Association of Military Surgeons of the United States. He also was a member of Kingston Post, 150, American Legion.

Dr. Gannon is survived by his wife, Mrs. Alice Matthews Ryan Gannon; a daughter, Mrs. John Wright, Peekskill; two sons, John and Peter Gannon; two stepsons, William J. and Robert J. Ryan; two brothers, Lester and Edward Gannon, Brooklyn; and a sister, Miss Elizabeth Gannon, also of Brooklyn.

Funeral services for Dr. Gannon will be held from the Jensen and Deegan Funeral Home, 15 Downs street, Monday at 9:30 a. m., thence to St. Joseph's Church where at 10 a. m. a solemn high Mass of requiem will be offered for the repose of his soul. Burial will be in St. Mary's Cemetery. Friends may call at the chapel at any time.

Local Death Record

Miss Elise Halvorsen
Funeral services for Miss Elise Halvorsen of 60 Pearl street, who died Tuesday were held Friday at 2 p. m. from the parlors of A. Carr & Son, 1 Pearl street. Services were conducted by the Rev. Donald E. Brown, pastor of the First Baptist Church. Burial took place in Wiltwyck Cemetery.

William J. Levins
Funeral services for William J. Levins, veteran of World War I, were held Friday morning from the W. N. Conner Funeral Home, Inc., and from St. Joseph's Church at 9:30 a. m. where a Mass of requiem was offered for the repose of his soul by the Rev. James J. Keating. Thursday night Father Keating visited the funeral home and assisted by relatives and friends recited the Rosary. Burial was in St. Mary's Cemetery where final absolution was given by Father Keating. The firing squad was in charge of WOJG Thomas W. Miller. Members of the firing squad which fired a volley over the grave of their deceased comrade included M/S Kenneth Houghtaling, M/S Mark G. Weil, M/S John G. Reynolds and Sergeant LeRoy Houghtaling. Taps were sounded by Bugler James Sass, Jr.

Francis L. Fitzpatrick
The funeral of Francis L. Fitzpatrick was held today at 9 a. m. from the Jensen and Deegan Funeral Home, 15 Downs street, and at 9:30 a. m. at St. Mary's Church, where a high Mass of requiem was offered for the repose of his soul by the Rev. John Flaherty. His relatives and friends attended the services in a final tribute to his memory. The children's choir sang Domine Jesu Christi at the offertory and in Paradisum at the conclusion of the final prayers. During the bereavement among those who called at the chapel was the Rev. Edward Farrelly who led in the recitation of the Holy Rosary for the repose of his soul. Beautiful floral pieces and Mass cards were sent by sorrowing relatives and friends. Burial took place in St. Mary's Cemetery, where the Rev. John Flaherty gave the final absolution at the grave.

Will Continue Flights

Chicago, June 23 (AP)—The AFL Air Line Pilots Association, whose members are on strike against United Airlines, said yesterday ALPA pilots will continue to fly American Airlines new DC-6 B ships until further notice. Previously the ALPA had announced that its members would not fly the DC-6 B ships after midnight Sunday unless they get more pay for flying the larger and faster craft.

Mrs. Toscanini, Dies
Milan, Italy, June 23 (AP)—Carla Toscanini, 75, wife of world-famed orchestra conductor Arturo Toscanini, died this morning after a long illness. Her husband, heartbroken and sobbing, refused to leave her bedside for hours after her death. With him at the bedside were his son Walter and two daughters, Wally, the Countess of Castelbarco, and Wanda Horowitz, wife of the pianist.

Ready for Korea Action
London, June 23 (AP)—A Commonwealth division in excess of 20,000 men will be ready for action as a unit in Korea by mid-July, a defense ministry spokesman said today. Britain announced some weeks ago that the Commonwealth brigade operating with the United Nations forces in Korea was being raised to division strength.

Six Persons Are Hurt As Auto Mounts Curb

New York, June 23 (AP)—An automobile yesterday mounted a West 23rd street curb, injured six persons—three of them children—and crashed through the window of a five-and-ten cent store, police reported.

The injured, were identified as Jennings Wells, 50, and his wife, Margaret, 44, of Manhattan; Miss Joan Leiss, 20, of 116-18 201st street, St. Albans, Queens; and three brothers, John Walpole, 6; Joseph Walpole, two; and Thomas Walpole, seven months old, all of 323 West 17th street.

Henry Bryan, 38, of 12 Stuyvesant Oval, was the driver, detectives said. Bryan said that, with his wife, Leah, as passenger, he was approaching Eighth avenue at 5 p. m. when he tried to brake his automobile, but it did not stop.

The victims were taken to St. Vincent's Hospital.

Bryan told detectives of the vehicle homicide squad that his brakes had been working perfectly up to the moment of the accident.

Valley Vols Elect Officers for Year

Schenectady, N. Y., June 23 (AP)—Francis W. Crystal of Menands will head the Hudson Valley Volunteer Firemen's Association for the next year.

The association, which represents about 500 volunteer fire companies in eastern New York, elected Crystal president yesterday at its annual convention in the nearby town of Rotterdam. The four-day session ends today with a parade.

Other officers elected: First vice-president, Bennett L. Feller, Red Hook; second vice-president, Peter W. Carri, Hastings-on-Hudson; treasurer, George J. Sweet, Coxsack; and secretary, Charles W. Fales, Haverstraw.

Robert York of Monticello was elected a director for five years, and Percy Van Leuven of Goshen, a director for one year.

Christen Super Liner

Newport News, Va., June 23 (AP)—The passenger liner United States, which floated in her drydock early today, was conceived and built primarily as a troop transport in the event of war, her operators disclosed today. John M. Franklin, president of the United States Lines, in a speech prepared for ceremonies christening the $70,000,000 super liner, said: "We face . . . the solemn fact that we are in a period of world confusion and crisis. Against the possibility of such an emergency, this mighty ship was conceived, planned and constructed, basically and primarily, as a naval transport, for immediate use as a troop ship if war must come."

No Joint Statement
Washington, June 23 (AP)—The western allies will issue no joint "peace" statement on the first anniversary Monday of the Communist aggression in Korea, the State Department said last night. This announcement was made after a meeting of diplomats from 16 countries that have troops in Korea. It was learned the United States opposed any such statement on the grounds the Chinese Communists have shown no interest in the possibility of a truce.

Lincoln White, State Department press officer, said Secretary of State Acheson and Warren Austin, American representative to the United Nations, might issue anniversary statements of their own.

Gunman, Pedestrians Shot

New York, June 23 (AP)—A gunman in a stolen station wagon and two pedestrians were shot in a wild chase through crowded Manhattan streets yesterday. The seven-block pursuit started after the gunman, identified by police as John Alexander, 27, of Seattle, Wash., stepped into a station wagon occupied by employees of a machine company. The employees, John Weston and Anna Markman, said Alexander pointed a gun and ordered Weston to drive "straight ahead." Stray bullets hit Marion Karp, 40, struck in the right thigh, and Charles Seigel, 47, in the right leg, as they walked in the park.

Ban Arms Shipment

Madrid, Spain, June 23 (AP)—Generalissimo Francisco Franco's government announced last night it has placed a ban on arms shipments to Communist China and North Korea. There has been no indication, however, that Spain has shipped arms to either country in recent years.

Reports Are Published

Cairo, Egypt, June 23 (AP)—The Egyptian press published sensational reports today describing what the papers called British "preparations" in the Suez canal for action in Iran. British Army officers here called the reports "nonsense." The newspapers printed stories of reinforcements arriving in the canal zone from Europe and troops leaving for British bases in Iraq, the Persian gulf or "unknown destination."

No Disposition Made on Property After Final Sale

The final auction this week at the Kingston Horse Market at Field Court brought back to many the memories of Tuesday sales lasting far into the night.

A single sale often would see from 125 to 150 horses knocked down to the highest bidder.

Intervening years saw a decline in the demand for farm animals, largely replaced by mechanized equipment. At the same time, the year following World War 2 brought horseback riding back into popularity, and more and more saddle horses were handled at the local horse market. Even in late years, sales running as high as 100 horses on a Tuesday were reported.

Closely identified with the auction sales was the late Elmer Palen, who died April 7, 1949. Three years before his death, Palen retired and the business since then had been carried on by his partners of 18 years, Samuel and Louis Shapiro. On Palen's retirement, the Shapiro brothers took into business with them Joseph Bales.

Lease Expires

Announced reason for making last Tuesday's auction the final sale was the expiration of the lease on the Field Court property, which is still owned by Mrs. Elmer Palen.

There has been much speculation in the city over what will become of the property, which extends deep behind the wooden stables. A member of the Palen family revealed today that no decision has been made as yet as to the disposition of the property.

Palen began in business in this city in 1909 in a location on Broadway opposite Franklin street. The stables there had been built some years previously by George Freer and were operated by George K. Horton before Palen acquired the business.

In 1921, Palen sold the Broadway livery and sales stables to Morton Low, who was then auto salesman for Homer C. Kuhlmann. It was in that year that Palen moved to the Field Court location.

Well-Known Horseman

Known to horsemen throughout the country, Palen made frequent trips to the horse markets in Kansas, Nebraska and Iowa. He would often send 10 carloads of Western horses to Kingston in a season, to be sold along with other horses on a commission basis. Each carload contained 21 horses.

Elizabeth Palen, daughter of Elmer Palen, remembers conducting one sale in the spring—traditional busy season—which lasted until 4 a. m.

The Tuesday sales brought many rural residents to the city and were conceded to be beneficial to other local businesses, as the purchasers would usually trade with local stores while they were in the city.

Palen's love for horses was not confined to the business of buying and selling. He would often serve as judge at horse shows, many times working with Ex-Mayor Harry Walker. They and other local horse fanciers at one time participated in the annual sport of trotting on the heavy ice in the Hudson river, before the time of the ice-breakers that now keep the river open to navigation.

Tuesday has for years been the traditional day when the little auction flag would be put in place on Broadway, announcing a sale. At one time, there was also held regular Thursday auctions for furniture and other items, although this later was abandoned.

Statewide Test

New York, June 23 (AP)—Thousands of men and women, trained volunteers of the ground observers corps, Aircraft Warning Service, will participate in the first statewide night test this weekend. Beginning at 9 a. m. (EDT) today the observers will man 563 "spotters" posts throughout the state. The first exercises will end Sunday at 6 p. m. An estimated 19,000 "spotters" and the personnel at the four relay centers in White Plains, Albany, Syracuse and Buffalo will work in relays.

Reports Are Published

Cairo, Egypt, June 23 (AP)—The Egyptian press published sensational reports today describing what the papers called British "preparations" in the Suez canal for action in Iran. British Army officers here called the reports "nonsense." The newspapers printed stories of reinforcements arriving in the canal zone from Europe and troops leaving for British bases in Iraq, the Persian gulf or "unknown destination."

Move to Call . . .

progress toward getting Britain and Russia to agree to respect the territorial integrity of China, but was blocked by the U. S. State Department.

Hurley conceded that Harriman had criticized correctly at the time Hurley's optimistic reports that Stalin would go along and had contended Stalin was intent on spreading Russian influence to Manchuria.

'Resented Agreement'

Maj. Gen. David G. Barr, who has been scheduled as the next witness in the committee's hearings, told senators yesterday that Chiang Kai-shek, Chinese Nationalist leader, was "chagrined" at the Yalta Agreement and "resented" it.

But Barr, former Seventh Division commander under MacArthur in Korea, said he didn't think the agreement contributed directly to the fall of China to the Communists.

The committee had planned to wind up hearings with testimony Monday from Maj. Gen. Emmett (Rosie) O'Donnell, former commander of the Far Eastern Air Force, who once urged that the "ultimate weapon"—the atomic bomb—be used in Korea.

Narcotics Convictions

New York, June 23 (AP)—Sixteen persons have been convicted of various narcotics charges in federal and general sessions court here. Jacob Nat Pettigrew, 49, described as "the leading source of narcotics in West Harlem," was convicted by a general sessions jury yesterday of illegally selling and possessing narcotics. The offense, Pettigrew's second, carries a possible 21-year prison sentence. His chief lieutenant, Charles Gooden, 41, was convicted with Pettigrew on dope charges. Gooden faces a maximum 11-year term. Both men, who are Negroes, will be sentenced July 16.

July Milk Prices

New York, June 23 (AP)—Handlers buying fluid milk (Class 1-A) produced for the New York metropolitan marketing area will pay $5.44 per hundredweight (46.5 quarts) during July, it was announced yesterday. In July, 1950, the Class 1-A price was $4.58. The Class 1-A price is determined monthly by a formula which considers general economic conditions, milk supply and demand and the season of the year.

Pleas of Reds

nis and nine others got sentences of five years and $10,000 fine. The eleventh, R. G. Thompson, drew a three year sentence, in view of his war record in the Pacific, and $10,000 fine.

They were convicted under the 1940 Smith Act, which forbids conspiracy to teach or advocate overthrow by force of the U. S. government. The Supreme Court ruled on June 4 that their convictions were constitutional. They appealed, and asked that they not be jailed until the Supreme Court could act.

No Delay Seen

Jackson considered the request for stay of sentence. He said it was "beyond belief" the high court would change its views. He therefore ordered sentences executed without delay.

In New York last night, U. S. Attorney Irving M. Saypol said he will move "upon receipt of the (Supreme Court's) mandate in the U. S. District Court on June 29" to have the Communist leaders surrender "within a week." The mandate of the Supreme Court is an order to put its decision into effect. It will go to the U. S. District Court in New York because the defendants were convicted there.

The government has meanwhile rounded up 17 men it described as second-string U. S. Communist leaders, and charged them also with violating the Smith Act.

Earlier yesterday, Saypol agreed to accept government bonds as bail for three of the latest Communist arrests in New York. Those released in bail were Israel Amter, $10,000; Claudia Jones, $20,000; and Elizabeth Gurley Flynn, $10,000.

Jackson agreed to stay jail sentences against six attorneys for the Communist leaders. The attorneys were convicted of contempt of court by Trial Judge Harold R. Medina.

They may remain free under bond until the Supreme Court can reconsider its June 4 decision against them.

Subpoena for Warren

Miami, Fla., June 23 (AP)—Florida's Governor Fuller Warren will get a subpoena, probably Tuesday, to appear before the Senate Crime Investigating Committee in Washington July 9. The subpoena, first issued by the Senate crime probe for a state's chief executive, was announced at the end of a two-day hearing in Miami yesterday. Spectators cheered Senator Herbert O'Connor (D-Md.), chairman of the committee, made the announcement and handed the subpoena to Deputy U. S. Marshal Jack P. Peeples. Warren, resting at Ormond Beach, had no comment.

Reported as Leaders

Manila, June 23 (AP)—A Philippines army report today said three Americans and a Chinese were believed to be the leaders of a well-armed band of 100 Communist Hukos on Bicol peninsula southeast of Manila. It is generally known that possibly a dozen Americans, some of them deserters from U. S. military forces, have been in the hills with the Hukos.

Dr. Gannon Dies; Retired Since 1946

Dr. Clarence L. Gannon, who practiced medicine for 30 years from his office on Green street, died Friday afternoon at his residence on the West Hurley-Woodstock road where he had resided since his retirement from the active practice of medicine in October, 1946.

Dr. Gannon, who specialized in urology, was born in Brooklyn and was graduated from Maryland College of Medicine in 1916. He later opened an office in Glenside and a few years later moved to Kingston.

A veteran of World War 1, Dr. Gannon enlisted in 1917 in the Medical Corps of the U. S. Army as a first lieutenant. He served two years at Camp Greenleaf, Ga., and received his honorable discharge January 23, 1919.

Dr. Gannon, who served 10 years as secretary of the Ulster County Medical Society, also was a member of the American Medical Society, the Ulster County Medical Society and was past president of the organization. He also served about 15 years as health officer of the Town of Ulster.

He served as medical consultant of the Ulster County Welfare Department and was associated with the Benedictine and Kingston Hospitals and served on both staffs. Dr. Gannon also was a member of the Association of Military Surgeons of the United States. He also was a member of Kingston Post, 150, American Legion.

Funeral services for Dr. Gannon will be held from the Jensen and Deegan Funeral Home, 15 Downs street, Monday at 9:30 a. m., thence to St. Joseph's Church where at 10 a. m. a solemn high Mass of requiem will be offered for the repose of his soul. Burial will be in St. Mary's Cemetery. Friends may call at the chapel at any time.

Local Death Record

Miss Elise Halvorsen
Funeral services for Miss Elise Halvorsen of 60 Pearl street, who died Tuesday, were held Friday at 2 p. m. from the parlors of A. Carr & Son, 1 Pearl street. Services were conducted by the Rev. Donald E. Brown, pastor of the First Baptist Church. Burial took place in Wiltwyck Cemetery.

William J. Levens
Funeral services for William J. Levens, veteran of World War 1, who died Friday morning from the W. N. Conner Funeral Home, Inc., and from St. Joseph's Church at 9:30 a. m. where a Mass of requiem was offered for the repose of his soul by the Rev. James J. Keating. Thursday night Father Keating visited the funeral home and assisted by relatives and friends received the body. Burial was in St. Mary's Cemetery where final absolution was given by Father Keating. The firing squad was in charge of WOJG Thomas W. Miller. Members of the firing squad which fired a volley over the grave of their deceased comrade included M/S Kenneth Houghtaling, M/S Mark G. Weil, M/S John G. Reynolds and Sergeant LeRoy Houghtaling. Taps were sounded by Bugler James Sass, Jr.

Francis L. Fitzpatrick
The funeral of Francis L. Fitzpatrick was held today at 9 a. m. from the Jensen and Deegan Funeral Home, 15 Downs street, and at 9:30 a. m. at St. Mary's Church, where a high Mass of requiem was offered for the repose of his soul by the Rev. John Flaherty. His relatives and friends attended the services in a final tribute to his memory. The children's choir sang Domine Jesu Christi at the offertory and In Paradisum at the conclusion of the final prayers. During the bereavement among those who called at the chapel was the Rev. Edward Farrelly who led in the recitation of the Holy Rosary for the repose of his soul. Beautiful floral pieces and Mass cards were sent by sorrowing relatives and friends. Burial took place in St. Mary's Cemetery, where the Rev. John Flaherty gave the final absolution at the grave.

Will Continue Flights
Chicago, June 23 (AP)—The AFL Air Line Pilot Association, whose members are on strike against United Air Lines, said yesterday ALPA pilots will continue to fly American Airlines new DC-6 B ships until further notice. Previously the ALPA had announced that its members would not fly the DC-6 B ships after midnight Sunday unless they get more pay for flying the larger and faster craft.

Mrs. Toscanini, Dies
Milan, Italy, June 23 (AP)—Carla Toscanini, 75, wife of world-famed orchestra conductor Arturo Toscanini, died this morning after a long illness. Her husband, heartbroken and sobbing, refused to leave her bedside for hours after her death. With him at the bedside were his son Walter and two daughters, Wally, the Countess of Castelbarco, and Wanda Horowitz, wife of the pianist.

Ready for Korea Action
London, June 23 (AP)—A Commonwealth division in excess of 20,000 men will be ready for action as a unit in Korea by mid-July, a defense ministry spokesman said today. Britain announced some weeks ago that the Commonwealth brigades operating with the United Nations forces in Korea was being raised to division strength.

Six Persons Are Hurt As Auto Mounts Curb

New York, June 23 (AP)—An automobile yesterday mounted a West 23rd street curb, injured six persons—three of them children—and crashed through the window of a five-and-ten cent store, police reported.

The injured, were identified as Jennings Wells, 50, and his wife, Margaret, 44, of Manhattan; Miss Joan Leiss, 20, of 116-18 201st street, St. Albans, Queens; and three brothers: John Walpole, 6; Joseph Walpole, 2; and Thomas Walpole, seven months old, all of 323 West 17th street.

Henry Bryan, 38, of 12 Stuyvesant Oval, was the driver, detectives said. Bryan said that, with his wife, Leah, as passenger, he was approaching Eighth avenue at 5 p. m. when he tried to brake his automobile, but it did not stop.

The victims were taken to St. Vincent's Hospital.

Bryan told detectives of the vehicle homicide squad that his brakes had been working perfectly up to the moment of the accident.

Valley Vols Elect Officers for Year

Schenectady, N. Y., June 23 (AP)—Francis W. Crystal of Menands will head the Hudson Valley Volunteer Firemen's Association for the next year.

The association, which represents about 500 volunteer fire companies in eastern New York, elected Crystal president yesterday at its annual convention in the nearby town of Rotterdam.

The four-day session ends today with a parade.

Other officers elected: First vice-president, Bennett L. Feller, Red Hook; second vice-president, Peter W. Carie, Hastings-on-Hudson; treasurer, George J. Sweet, Coxsack; and secretary, Charles W. Fales, Haverstraw.

Robert York of Monticello was elected a director for five years, and Percy Van Leuven of Goshen, a director for one year.

Christen Super Liner

Newport News, Va., June 23 (AP)—The passenger liner United States, which floated in her drydock early today, was conceived and built primarily as a troop transport in the event of war, her operators disclosed today.

John M. Franklin, president of the United States Lines, in a speech prepared for ceremonies christening the $70,000,000 super liner, said: "We face . . . the solemn fact that we are in a period of world confusion and crisis. Against the possibility of such an emergency, this mighty ship was conceived, planned and constructed, basically and primarily, as a naval transport, for immediate use as a troop ship if war must come."

No Joint Statement

Washington, June 23 (AP)—The western allies will issue no joint "peace" statement on the first anniversary Monday of the Communist aggression in Korea, the State Department said last night. This announcement was made after a meeting of diplomats from 16 countries that have troops in Korea. It was learned the United States opposed any such statement on the grounds the Chinese Communists have shown no interest in the possibility of a truce. Lincoln White, State Department press officer, said Secretary of State Acheson and Warren Austin, American representative to the United Nations, might issue anniversary statements of their own.

Gunman, Pedestrians Shot

New York, June 23 (AP)—A gunman in a stolen station wagon and two pedestrians were shot in a wild chase through crowded Manhattan streets yesterday. The seven-block pursuit started after the gunman, identified by police as John Alexander, 27, of Seattle, Wash., stepped into a station wagon occupied by employees of a machine company. The employees, John Weston and Anna Markman, said Alexander pointed a gun and ordered Weston to drive "straight ahead." Stray bullets hit Marion Karp, 40, struck in the right thigh, and Charles Seigel, 47, in the right leg, as they walked in the park.

Ban Arms Shipment

Madrid, Spain, June 23 (AP)—Generalissimo Francisco Franco's government announced last night it has placed a ban on arms shipments to Communist China and North Korea. There has been no indication, however, that Spain has shipped arms to either country in recent years.

No Disposition Made on Property After Final Sale

The final auction this week at the Kingston Horse Market at Field Court brought back to many the memories of Tuesday sales lasting far into the night.

A single sale often would see from 125 to 150 horses knocked down to the highest bidder.

Intervening years saw a decline in the demand for farm animals, largely replaced by mechanized equipment. At the same time, the years following World War 2 brought horseback riding back into popularity, and more and more saddle horses were handled at the local horse market. Even in late years, sales running as high as 100 horses on a Tuesday were reported.

Closely identified with the auction sales was the late Elmer Palen, who died April 7, 1949. Three years before his death, Palen retired and the business since then had been carried on by his partners of 18 years, Samuel and Louis Shapiro. On Palen's retirement, the Shapiro brothers took over the business with them Joseph Basch.

Lease Expires

Announced reason for making last Tuesday's auction the final sale was the expiration of the lease on the Field Court property, which is still owned by Mrs. Elmer Palen.

There has been much speculation in the city over what will become of the property, which extends deep behind the wooden stables. A member of the Palen family revealed today that no decision has been made as yet as to the disposition of the property.

Palen began in business in this city in 1909 in a location on Broadway opposite Franklin street. The stables there had been built some years previously by George Freer and were operated by George K. Horton before Palen acquired the business.

In 1924, Palen sold the Broadway livery and sales stables to Morton Low, who was then auto salesman for Homer C. Kuhlmann. It was in that year that Palen moved to the Field Court location.

Well-Known Horseman

Known to horsemen throughout the country, Palen made frequent trips to the horse markets in Kansas, Nebraska and Iowa. He would often send 10 carloads of Western horses to Kingston in a season, to be sold along with other horses on a commission basis. Each carload contained 21 horses.

Miss Elizabeth Palen, daughter of Elmer Palen, remembers conducting one sale in the spring—traditional busy season—which lasted until 4 a. m.

The Tuesday sales brought many rural residents to the city and were conceded to be beneficial to other local businesses, as the purchasers would usually trade with local stores while they were in the city.

Palen's love for horses was not confined to the business of buying and selling. He would often serve as judge at horse shows, many times working with Ex-Mayor Harry Walker. They and other local horse fanciers at one time participated in the annual sport of trotting on the heavy ice in the Hudson river, before the time of the ice-breakers that now keep the river open to navigation.

Tuesday has for years been the traditional day when the little auction flag would be put in place on Broadway, announcing a sale. At one time, there was also held regular Thursday auctions for furniture and other items, although this later was abandoned.

Statewide Test

New York, June 23 (AP)—Thousands of men and women, trained volunteers of the ground observers corps, Aircraft Warning Service, will participate in the first statewide night test this week-end. Beginning at 9 a. m. (EDT) today the observers will man 565 "spotter" posts throughout the state. The first exercises will end Sunday at 6 p. m. An estimated 19,000 "spotters" and the personnel at the four relay centers in White Plains, Albany, Syracuse and Buffalo will work in relays.

Reports Are Published
Cairo, Egypt, June 23 (AP)—The Egyptian press published sensational reports today describing what the papers called British "preparations" in the Suez canal for action in Iran. British Army officers here called the reports "moonshine." The newspapers printed stories of reinforcements arriving in the canal zone from Europe and troops leaving for British bases in Iraq, the Persian gulf or "unknown destination."

Hurley conceded that Harriman had criticized correctly at the time Hurley's optimistic reports that Stalin would go along and had contended Stalin was intent on spreading Russian influence to Manchuria.

'Resented Agreement'

Maj. Gen. David G. Barr, who had been scheduled as the next to last witness in the committee's hearings, told senators yesterday that Chiang Kai-shek, Chinese Nationalist leader, was "chagrined" at the Yalta Agreement and "resented" it.

But Barr, former Seventh Division commander under MacArthur in Korea, said he didn't think the agreement contributed directly to the fall of China to the Communists.

The committee had planned to wind up hearings with testimony Monday from Maj. Gen. Emmett (Rosie) O'Donnell, former commander of the Far Eastern Air Force, who once urged that the "ultimate weapon"—the atomic bomb—be used in Korea.

But Chairman Russell (D-Ga.) told reporters that one or more committee members were insisting that additional witnesses be called. He wouldn't give the names of the witnesses or senators, but said the committee as a whole will decide what to do.
